Aid Granted School Plan In Louisiana

White Students May Attend Sessions In Suburban Building

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A Negro girl, holding the hand of a U.S. marshal and guarded by 100 or more policemen, returns today to a white school.

The lone Negro student at the William Frantz School and three Negro girls at McDonogh No. 19, symbolize the firm stand of federal authorities that New Orleans schools must be desegregated.

The Louisiana Legislature, intent on preserving school segregation, speedily approved an emergency bill in a Sunday session, providing state aid for pupils who prefer attending private schools.

All of the approixmately 500 white students at McDonogh have boycotted the school since a federal court ordered integration, effective Nov. 14. Only 10 white students out of 500 enrolled at the Frantz school were in attendance at the school before the weekend.

Moving quickly to meet the expected demand for private schools, volunteer workmen rushed repairs Sunday on a building in suburban Arabi to be used for some of the white students boycotting the two schools.

C. E. Vetter, businessman, said so many workers showed up at the building that some had to be turned away. Registration at the private school was scheduled today and Tuesday. Classes were expected to start Wednesday.

In addition to providing an alternate school system the legislature approved resolutions designed to prevent banks from handing over school funds to the New Orleans School Board.

The lawmakers earlier tried to oust the board but U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright overturned that action and numerous segregation measures.

Wright set a hearing for today for the banks to show cause why they should not be enjoined for refusing to honor school board checks.

One of the latest legislative resolutions sets up a new school board with authority to borrow the annual $12 million needed each year until school tax money becomes available. Gov. Jimmie H. Davis signed the resolution Saturday. Two citizens immediately obtained a restraining order, alleging the new attempt to oust the school board is unconstitutional.

News 'Holiday' Asked At Louisiana Schools

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison has appealed to news media to take a 3-day holiday from on-the-scene school integration coverage, beginning today.

The mayor said he thought demonstrators would not show up at two integrated schools if the press did not appear.

Morrison suggested a press pool—where one reporter and one photographer would cover the school scene and share coverage with all others. Another suggestion was that police photographers supply all media with film and a report.

In a letter to news media representatives dated Friday, Morrison said the people who are demonstrating are principally the same ones. They number not over 200 persons, he said.

Morrison said newsmen have told him "if they (photographers and reporters) were not on the scene each day, the demonstrators would not be there."

FORGIVENESS FORGOTTEN. The Rev. Andrew Foreman, center, leaves St. Mark's Methodist Church in New Orleans with members of his congregation after night services Sunday. After a week of insults from surly women who spat at him for letting his daughter attend school with a Negro, Rev. Foreman preached on forgiveness and vowed his daughter would return to the integrated school today. (UPI Telephoto)

West Virginia Budget Set At $114.5 Million

'61 Estimate Shows Boost Over Current $113.7 Million Cost

CHARLESTON (AP) — Finance Commissioner Henry L. Ash handed the Board of Public Works today a proposed $114,454,000 operating budget for state spending agencies for the fiscal year to begin next July 1.

The document contained no general salary increases for state workers. It recommended a significantly larger appropriation only for the State Health Department.

Board members had Ash's proposal before them as they began a scheduled three days of hearings on budget requests of various departments and institutions.

Later this month, the board will whip into final shape the budget document and accompanying budget bill it will hand the new Legislature when it convenes here Jan. 11.

Adjusted to stay within the new fiscal year's anticipated revenue, Ash's proposal compared with a budget of $113,703,000 for the current fiscal year, exclusive of funds for economic recovery and medical-care-for-the-aged programs.

Ash estimated general revenue income from current tax sources for the year to end June 30, 1962, at $114,460,000.

A $114,454,000 operating budget total would leave a balance of $5,971. That, plus a estimated unencumbered balance of $80,591 as of next June 30, would mean a new general revenue balance of $86,562 on June 30, 1962.

Ash recommended $491,000 more for the State Health Department, which has had a budget of $768,000 for three years, to permit it to launch a program of financial aid to counties through an already established distribution formula.

'Billiard Shot' Mishap Listed By City Police

A traffic mishap that had all the ear marks of a complicated billiard shot damaged two autos early Sunday on St. Clair Ave. 35 feet south of Morton St., police reported.

A southbound 1954 four-door sedan operated by Orval W. Adams, 39, of 1025 Commerce St., Wellsville, struck the curb on the right side of the street and then rebounded into the path of a northbound 1953 sedan driven by Phyllis A. DiLoreto, 22, of Cain St., officers said.

Adams told police he was headed downgrade, traveling too fast to make the slight curve at Morton St. When he applied the brakes, he lost control of his car, which struck the curb and then rebounded across the street into the path of the woman's car, he said. The crash was timed at 12:40 a.m.

Another collision on St. Clair Ave. at Lincoln Ave. Saturday at 2:35 p. m. damaged a 1957 two-door sedan driven by Willard G. Boley, 30, of Bloomfield Rd. and a 1959 two-door sedan operated by Mrs. Margaret Ann Steffensen of the Calcutta-Cannons Mills Rd., officers said.

Both autos were headed south on St. Clair when Boley started a turn onto Lincoln Ave., police said. Mrs. Steffensen said she attempted to swing around Boley's car, but misjudged the clearance of her right front fender, which hit the left rear fender of Boley's car.

Meanwhile, James E. Fleak, 105 Thompson Ave., told police the left front door of his 1956 station wagon was damaged when struck by a hit-skip vehichle between 9:15 and 10 a. m. Saturday while parked in front of his home.

China Admits Russia Holds 'Leadership'

Liu Shao Chi Says Red Summit Helped Improve Solidarity

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist China's president today put a stamp of approval on the peaceful coexistence policy of the Soviet Union as it apparently has been ratified by the Communist summit conference which ended last week.

In a goodbye speech at Leningrad, before continuing his tour of the Soviet Union, President Liu Shao Chi made a confession of faith in Soviet leadership.

"The great Soviet Union," he said, "has always been and is today a powerful bastion of world peace. The initiative of the Soviet government and its proposals aimed at easing international disarmament and peaceful co-existence between countries with differing social systems have the sympathy and support of all peace-loving nations and peoples."

He said further that the recent summit conference, "resulted in a still further strengthening of the cohesion of the entire Communist movement and in a still further strengthening of the solidarity between the Communist party of China and the Communist party of the Soviet Union, between the People's Republic of China and the Soviet Union."

(Moscow radio broadcast Liu's speech but this dispatch was delayed in passing through censors).

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, published a long editorial a week ago in which it stated that peaceful coexistence as interpreted by Premier Khrushchev is the correct interpretation.

Coming as it did near the end of the conference, after more than two weeks of debate, it sounded as if the Soviets had laid down the law as they saw it.

The speech by Liu Shao Chi was his way of saying that the man who pays the piper calls the tune. In his speech, he made it abundantly clear by pointing out that China's industrial and technical advances were heavily dependent on Soviet production.

Khrushchev argued that war is no longer possible because of nuclear weapons and that Communist countries must rely on showing the world that they can produce more than capitalist countries and give greater freedom and happiness to mankind than capitalist countries.

Murder Trial Due At Lisbon

2nd Degree Charges To Face Salem Man

Frank W. Fish, 56, of Salem, truck farmer and father of 13, will go on trial next Monday before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard at Lisbon on a charge of second degree murder.

Fish is charged with the shotgun slaying of his son-in-law, Wyman Leroy Capps, 37, formerly of Jasper, Ala., Aug. 3 at the Fish farmhouse on Egypt Rd., east of Salem.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw and Atty. John E. Bauknecht of East Palestine were in Jasper over the weekend taking depositions for the trial.

Fish told Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan he fired as Capps came across the yard toward the front porch, ignoring his warnings not to come into the house when intoxicated.

Capps, his wife, Kathryn, 21, and their two children had been living in Alabama since their marriage about three years ago, but moved in with her parents last July when Capps became unemployed.

Federal Plan Asked

Committee Named To Set Up U.S. Aid For West Virginia

Kennedy Set To Work On Job Problem

West Virginia Will Serve As Basis For Other Areas In U.S.

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A group of West Virginia professional and business leaders have been named by President - elect John Kennedy to a committee charged with drafting a federal aid program to help areas plagued by chronic unemployment.

Kennedy announced Sunday night formation of the 11-member group. It will concentrate on West Virginia, with recommendations to meet that state's problems to be used as the basis for the other areas.

Kennedy said organization of the committee was fulfillment of a campaign promise.

"There is no state," he explained, "which has been harder hit by technological change and subsequent chronic unemployment than West Virginia.

"Last spring I told the people of West Virginia that '60 days after my election I would send to the Congress of the United States a program to assist West Virginia to move forward'."

Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., was named head of the committee, which will hold its first meeting this week. Kennedy intends sending his aid plan to the Congress soon after he is sworn in Jan. 20.

Among other things, the committee would draft a program to expedite economic growth in the affected areas, which include West Virginia, southern Illinois, Southern Indiana, Pennsylvania coal and steel areas, Western Maryland and the Minnesota iron range country.

President Eisenhower has vetoed two bills sent to him by Congress in the past two years to establish programs for aiding the areas hit by unemployment. He said the legislation would aid some areas which did not need it.

Kennedy's committee, in addition to Douglas, includes:

Miles C. Stanley, president of the West Virginia Labor Federation; Don B. Potter, president of the Monongahela Power Co., Fairmont, W. Va.; Burl A. Sawyers, former West Virginia road commissioner, Charleston, W. Va.; Wayne Fletcher, industrial development commissioner, Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, Huntington, W. Va.

Dr. Clyde L. Colson, dean of the West Virginia University Law School, Morgantown; William L. Batt Jr., Pennsylvania secretary of labor and industry, Camp Hill, Pa.; L. E. Titerney, Jr., president of the West Virginia Coal Association, Bluefield; Michael F. Widman, assistant to the president, United Mine Workers Union, Washington; and Harry Hoffman, editor of the Charleston (W. Va.) Gazette.

Myer Feldman of Kennedy's staff will serve as committee secretary and as the president-elect's personal representative.

U. S. Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd, West Virginia Democrats, will be consultants.

Leftists Block Congo Whites In 'Reprisal'

Stanleyville Closed By Lumumba Group Due To His Seizure

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)--Henchmen of Patrice Lumumba clamped a Communist-style dictatorship on the city of Stanleyville today.

Angered at the capture of the deposed premier they let loose their fury on whites trapped in his northeastern stronghold as a reprisal. Whites were barred from entering or leaving Oriental Province.

U. N. reports said numerous white residents of Stanleyville were being mistreated by the military police under control of the local government headed by Antoine Gizenga, vice premier in Lumumba's defunct Cabinet and a strong leftist.

Diplomats in Leopoldville were convinced that if Lumumba had succeeded in reaching Stanleyville he would have split the Congo in such a way that a Korea-type war would have followed with the Communists on Lumumba's side.

Lumumba, dismissed by President Joseph Kasavubu Sept. 5, escaped from his guarded residence in Leopoldville a week ago and headed for Stanleyville.

Caught 500 miles east of Leopoldville by Congolese army commander Col. Joseph Mobutu's troops, he has been brought back to face trial on charges of inciting the army to mutiny during the chaotic days after independence.

Western diplomats said they had definite information that the Soviet bloc and several Asian-african nations were planning to recognize a Lumumba administration in Stanleyville as the Congo's rightful government had he got away out of reach of Mobutu's troops.

Mobutu told newsmen he plans to extend the life of his provisional government of college graduate commissioners until the Congo's feuding politicians can agree on a stable government.

When he installed the commissioners on Sept. 14, he said they would act as a caretaker government until the end of the year.

Probe Begins On Failure Of Satellite Shot

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)—A 72-foot Scout rocket and the inflatable satellite it was to have put into orbit lay under deep water 80 miles off the Virginia shore today after the failure of the first major space shot attempted from this test center.

Although the vehicle cost more than $750,000, there will be no attempt to recover any part of it.

Officials said it would be almost impossible to locate. Even if the bits of wreckage could be found, they would shed little additional light as to the cause of the failure.

Instead, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration planned to analyze carefully the radio telemetry information and camera and radar coverage of the few short minutes of the flight Sunday.

Churchmen 'Bedazzled'

Favorable Reaction Given Protestant 'Reunion' Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Leading churchmen today registered a somewhat bedazzled but firmly favorable reaction to a proposal for a wide reunion among American Protestants.

The plan, said Methodist Bishop John Wesley Lord, of Boston, "is as shocking as it is Christian."

"It overcomes with stark simplicity many of the problems that have perplexed the separate communions over the years."

The plan, at the outset, would embrace the Episcopal, United Presbyterian, Methodist and United Church of Christ with other denominations subsequently invited to join.

The provocative formula was offered Sunday by a top-ranking Presbyterian, the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, of Philadelphia, shortly before the start of the triennial General Assembly of the National Council of Churches.

More than 3,000 representatives of 33 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 40 million members joined Sunday night in the stirring opening services.

Although not formally a part of their program, the proposal generated keen interest among delegates.

"It is the opening of a very significant move," said the Rt. Rev. Arthur C. Lichtenberger, of New York, presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church.

"Out of this might come a plan

Kennedy May Offer U.N. Job To Stevenson

Pentagon Receives Detailed Survey In Reorganizing Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy is prepared to offer Adlai E. Stevenson the post of ambassador to the United Nations, press reports said today.

The reports were carried in the Daily News and the New York Times.

The News, in a dispatch from Washington, said "This would be in line with previous reports indicating that Kennedy had firmly decided that someone other than the two-time presidential nominee would be picked for secretary of state.

"Kennedy, it was understood, has expressed an inclination to name Sen. J. William Fulbright,

Santa And The Boy Fish

The annual Christmas story, a favorite with the youngsters, starts today in The Review.

This year Lucrece Hudgins Beale tells of the adventures of Michael, who, with the aid of a diving mask and flippers, becomes a Boyfish and battles the Monster of the Deep for the black pearl to insure that Santa will make his rounds at Christmastime.

Santa and The Boy Fish comes to you in serial form in 17 chapters. It is illustrated by AP Newsfeatures Artist Dick Hodgins. For the first chapter in the exciting story, turn to:

Churchmen 'Bedazzled'

Favorable Reaction Given Protestant 'Reunion' Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Leading churchmen today registered a somewhat bedazzled but firmly favorable reaction to a proposal for a wide reunion among American Protestants.

The plan, said Methodist Bishop John Wesley Lord, of Boston, "is as shocking as it is Christian."

"It overcomes with stark simplicity many of the problems that have perplexed the separate communions over the years."

The plan, at the outset, would embrace the Episcopal, United Presbyterian, Methodist and United Church of Christ with other denominations subsequently invited to join.

The provocative formula was offered Sunday by a top-ranking Presbyterian, the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, of Philadelphia, shortly before the start of the triennial General Assembly of the National Council of Churches.

More than 3,000 representatives of 33 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 40 million members joined Sunday night in the stirring opening services.

Although not formally a part of their program, the proposal generated keen interest among delegates.

"It is the opening of a very significant move," said the Rt. Rev. Arthur C. Lichtenberger, of New York, presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church.

"Out of this might come a plan

Hearing Fixed For Campbell

Raymond G. Campbell is scheduled to be arraigned Tuesday morning in Municipal Court on a first degree murder charge filed in the slaying of his wife, Doris May Campbell, a week ago tonight in their Beechwood home.

Tomorrow's preliminary hearing is to determine whether the alleged crime was committed and if there is reasonable and probable cause to hold the 25-year-old potter for the Grand Jury.

Lt. Clyde W. Boso, who headed the investigation into the death of Mrs. Campbell, filed the murder charge Friday morning, alleging Campbell "unlawfully, purposely and of deliberate and premeditated malice killed Doris May Campbell."

Campbell has been held in the city jail since his release Wednesday night from City Hospital where he was treated for a bullet wound in the abdomen which police said was self-inflicted. No bond is permitted for a defendant in a first degree murder case.

Police said Campbell told them he killed his wife by emptying a 9-shot revolver at her "because she was going to leave me."

Let's Think About Followership

There's a senseless little argument about whether Richard Nixon is going to be the leader of the country's Republicans in the next four years.

President Eisenhower has been outspoken in his belief that his vice president should be recognized as party leader in fact as well as title. Gov. Rockefeller of New York has been skittish about this, preferring to stress what everybody knows—that a defeated presidential candidate carries only the title of No. 1 partisan and must earn the right to lead the party.

This realism on the governor's part had been twisted into a notion that Mr. Nixon and Mr. Rockefeller aren't getting along. They have tried to spike the notion by talking things over as they did last summer, and declaring there is no friction between them; that both hope to exert leadership to make the Republican party a "positive, progressive force."

SOMEWHAT STRANGELY, when you think about it, everybody in politics talks about leadership, but scarcely anyone looks into followership.

Some Republicans and Republican-leaning independents liked Nelson Rockefeller better than they liked Richard Nixon when it was time to nominate a Republican presidential candidate for 1960. But most of the party's organization heads like Nixon better than they liked Rockefeller, so Rockefeller stepped aside.

At Chicago, there were Republicans in the party convention, reflecting the ideas of many Republicans who stayed home, who liked Barry Goldwater better than they liked either Rockefeller or Nixon. Sen. Goldwater closed that potential breach by telling the convention and the country that he would support Nixon—which he did, to the limit of his ability. His followers presumably did likewise.

This diversity of likes and dislikes is typical of followership in politics. There is no such thing as unanimity in political followership.

Certainly there is no unanimity among Democratic followers. The gulf between southerners and northerners is unbridgeable. There is friction between easterners and westerners. Some Democrats are unreconstructed and others are still under construction.

FOLLOWERSHIP in both parties is unorganized, factional and muddled as to purpose and program. There are Republicans who would be happier in the Democratic party, and by the same token some Democrats would be more in harmony with Republican principles than they ever can be with some of the Democratic dogmas.

The most misleading and dangerous fallacy in party politics is that followers line up cheek by jowl behind leaders because they are in a mood to obey orders. That isn't the way it works.

The mantle of political leadership is not bestowed. It is earned. The late Robert A. Taft was the leader in fact of the Republican party although Thomas E. Dewey had been its presidential candidate in two elections. And unhappy as the situation is going to be for some Republicans who always regarded Dwight Eisenhower as an interloper, he may have as much to do with leading the Republican party in the next few years as any of the younger men who will be brandishing political sabers and issuing battle cries.

Political followers obey only their own inclinations, not commands from party chieftains. And if it so happens that none of the chieftains can satisfy their inclinations, the "followers" "take a walk," stay home, or raise a rumpus. Except for a hard core of party faithful who will tag along behind anything, the followers possess and exercise the power of life and death over their leadership, not vice versa, as it sometimes is made to appear.

THIS IS TO WISH Richard Nixon, Nelson Rockefeller, Barry Goldwater, Thruston Morton, Clifford Case, Everett Dirksen and all other Republican leaders much luck with their followership.

In the same breath, it is to wish President-elect John F. Kennedy much luck with his, too, because he now has the toughest assignment there is—of trying to hold together a government as well as a political party.

Only One Thing Center Now

In the view of one economic rationalizer, business made things look better for 1961 by not extending itself in 1960. This rationalizer and others who explain why this must be the best of all possible economic worlds because it's the only world there is, can pretty well agree that when businessmen began to pile up new inventories it will be a monumental task. It will cause a boom.

They stacked no inventories in 1960. In steel, for instance, the cupboard continued to be bare. Even steel backlogs in the mills hit a two-year low. But by early 1962—and beginning in late 1961—predicts the editor-in-chief of Iron Age Magazine, Tom Campbell, things will be booming. Steel orders will climb next March, he believes.

Speaking to the Union Club in Cleveland, Campbell said three things would propel the boom—fear of another steel strike in 1962, overdue buildup of depleted inventories and the general improvement of the economy.

Diagnosing the steel industry and its troubles is a popular indoor sport right now. James M. Dawson, vice president-economist of National City Bank of Cleveland—the economic rationalizer previously referred to—believes there is less reason now than in 1954 or 1958 for cutbacks in capital spending and inventory liquidation. Business judgments are cautious but not panicky, as he sees it. Recession, therefore, will be short-lived.

The question is whether events will change the attitude of people who make consumer judgments. The reluctance of consumers to yield to discouragement has been, so far, the most stabilizing of all conceivable economic influences.

But consumers — the general public — can be swayed by things that are economic rationalizer can cope with. They are as mercurial as investors in stocks. Consumer attitude will be the touch-and-go factor of economics this winter and next spring.

If the buying public can be held on a relatively even keel, there will be a mighty surge of demand for many things, including steel, beginning early next summer.

United Nations And The Bankers

For the first time in its troubled history, the United Nations will appeal to bankers for loans to meet its expenses. The loans would be secured by the expectation that member nations will pay their dues for the upcoming year.

The arrangement would be like issuing tax anticipation notes backed by government's authority to collect revenue or seize property in lieu of payment. But in the United Nations there is no authority to collect revenue. And there is nothing to seize in lieu of payment.

The United Nations is in money trouble because Communist-bloc nations are holding back their payments. The United States—Uncle Sugar to the United Nations, too—always has carried the bulk of its financial burden and even now is advancing $20 million on its own 1961 dues to underwrite the current year.

The Kremlin's strategy is to rule or ruin the United Nations and financial ruin is the particular way chosen to bring it about. The strategy will be to withhold money support unless the General Assembly ditches Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Hammarskjold's apparent crime was to order Russian Communists out of the Belgian Congo; that was unpardonable in the Kremlin's view. His greater crime, however, has been to maintain independence of the Communist Conspiracy. As long as he stays on the job, the conspirators will have a harder time in capitalizing on international chaos.

If the U.N. General Assembly ditched Hammarskjold under these circumstances, it would be ditching its own future usefulness. Either way, it loses. It can choose between moral and financial bankruptcy.

Bankers who are going to be asked to lend it money in anticipation of future collections will have to be a thousand times more susceptible to emotional appeals than bankers are reputed to be.

The Once Over

The new musical "Camelot" should have, we think, a heroine named Eliza Doolittle Guinevere and a number entitled, "I Could Have Danced All Night With All the Knights." Also a duet by Sir Launcelot and Sir Galahad, "Get Me To The Round Table on Time." Advance sale is record-breaker, despite fact folks think Camelot is the name of a cigarette, a perfume, a new compact auto.

IF THE BABY starts bawling in Sen. Kennedy's arms we trust he won't think it indicates he has lost prestige. And if he has to walk the floor with Junior he will be reaffirming his campaign declaration "we must not stand still."

The Department of Agriculture is putting olives in school lunches to help olive-growing industry. It will also help classroom guided missile program.

A 45-passenger bus was stolen from in front of a New York lunchroom. Probably be some big city man who had never had a bus stop for him before.

Russia and other member states in the United Nations are behind $37 million in dues and assessments. They are trying to establish it as the only select club on earth in which you can keep membership cards through long and consistent appearance of names on a list of men delinquent in dues. They are for peace and better understanding, if there is no charge.

It teaches Americans to learn that Russia is the most disturbing member "for free," and that Khrushchev tried to take over the whole show without even a receipt for having paid an initiation fee. (He didn't even pay an amusement tax.) He thumped tables on a complimentary table thumper's ticket and waved his shoe on a free pass.

It is costing the United Nations $10 million a month in The Congo for rights to be shoved around, with Russia refusing to pay a "red" cent. Soviets don't even send a singing-telegram during the National Chaos week or East River Turmoil Month, without marking it "collect."

The Congo seems to have a second and third team of premiers.

A STANFORD, CONN. MAN has bought an old railraod caboose and put it on his farm. The caboose has always seemed the best part of the train to many people, located at the tail end far from noise, complaints and dirt of the coaches. From the rear platform of the caboose there was always a sort of Disneyland thrill in the view as the train whipped around curves.

'Little U.S.' At Home In England

By Ronald Thomson

ALCONBURY, England

A jet plane screeched through the sky and set glasses drumming in the little pub where the sign read: "American Spoken Here."

Not a man at the bar stirred. Outside, a plowman scarcely bothered to look up. His horse plodded on, too, unmoved.

This is East Anglia — a sort of Little America on the rich, dark soil of rural England.

The whine of a jet is as familiar as the chug of a tractor. And the accents of New England and the Deep South are as common as the rough dialect of the local country folk.

A network of U. S. and British air bases, many equipped with deadly rockets, runs through the flat, bleak and marshy countryside.

JUST OUTSIDE the city of Huntingdon, near a place called Upper Stukeley, stands one of the most important bases in Little America — Alconbury, headquarters of the 10th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing of the U. S. Air Force in Europe.

More than 7,000 American men, women and children live on or around this chilly plateau where the Stars and Stripes waves in a howling wind.

Alconbury, an oasis of the United States, radiates the American way of life. Its influence has in many ways changed the surrounding countryside.

One of England's few motels operates within a mile or two of the base. Shops in nearby towns price their goods in British pounds — and the equivalent in dollars. The quaint old pubs now stock ice — something of a revolution in a land where beer is taken tepid.

"Not that we want the English people to change just because we're here," says Capt. Robert M. Bussjaeger of St. Joseph, Mo. "As a matter of fact, I like the English beer just the way it is—kind of warm."

MOST OF the Americans found the English a little hard to understand at first.

"Their reserve used to puzzle us," says Lt. Thomas W. Armstrong of Dallas. "You know, this business about having to be introduced before you get talking.

"I'll never forget the first time I went into an English pub. There were three or four of us Americans and, from outside, we could hear people talking and laughing.

"But when we went in the door, the noise just snapped off. Nobody spoke. When we walked up to the bar we felt as if we were throwing out waves of silence all around. It wasn't very comfortable and we didn't stay long.

"Well, the next time we went back things seemed a little easier. It took us three visits to get accepted, but it was worth waiting for. Now the regulars gather around whenever we go in and everybody has a lot of fun. One of the boys goes down there Saturday nights to keep bar."

There is little or no anti-American feeling in East Anglia, where the free-spending Yanks have done a lot to make the area prosperous.

"There is absolutely no personal hostility," says Capt. Bussjaeger. "Even when someone writes a letter to the papers criticizing the United States, it's nearly always another Briton who replies for the defense."

ALCONBURY is the nerve center and control headquarters for the wing, which occupies other bases at Chelveston, Molesworth and Bruntingthorpe, 60 miles away. It's a widespread operation that costs upward of $12 million a year.

At Alconbury, you find the bowling alley and the barber shop the stream of big American automobiles, the stores and movie theater, the handsome school, the gymnasium and library, the chapel and the cafe.

For hundreds of families, the base is like a real town — the place where they have their own house, where Dad goes to work, the kids go to school and Mom does her shopping.

But there are only a limited number of American-style houses on the base so about 1,500 men and their families have to rent houses and apartments in nearby towns and villages. Rentals range from $50 to $150 a month and base authorities make sure no one gets taken by unscrupulous landlords.

Most American families live a considerable distance from the base — an average of 22 miles away. On the winding, narrow English roads that can often take more than an hour to cover.

And, of course, you have to get used to driving on the left side of the road. With 1,500 American cars covering an estimated 60,000 miles a day around the base, it's small wonder that accidents occur.

Councilmen in nearby Cambridge recently expressed concern over the accident rate to Col. James D. Kemp, cigar-smoking commander of the wing.

"We're taking strong action to cut the number of driving offenses by our personnel," Col. Kemp says. "Every accident is specially reviewed by our own traffic advisory board. And we can be tough if we want to."

ATTRACTIVE, dark-haired, Mrs. Phyllis Conway, of Huntington Park, Calif., who lives with her husband and three children on the base, has been surprised and pleased by her experience of living in England.

"Of course," she says, "some things still seem very strange. How the English people get along without central heating in their homes amazes me.

"But life here is different in many pleasant ways. There isn't the same frantic rush — the whole pace of life is more relaxed. I like that."

Mrs. Conway's oldest child, 15-year-old Kathleen, goes to school at the U.S. Lakenheath base, 40 miles from Alconbury. It means rising soon after 6 a.m., leaving home at 7 and getting back at 5 p.m. each night — a wearing schedule for a teenager.

But that is nothing unusual for American children in this part of the world.

A fleet of buses brings them from their homes to the schools at Alconbury and other bases. For many of the kids it means up to four hours traveling a day.

The children, more than 1,250 of them, are taught exclusively by American teachers. Most of the 51 teachers live in Cambridge and commute by car to and from the base schools.

Dear Nephew: I could not agree with you more enthusiastically about your latest peeve if you were Marilyn Monroe and I was 18.

Generalizations are one of my peeves, too. I tell you this, knowing that I continue to make them. But mostly I make them when I am needling someone. I never make them seriously any more.

They are a confession of weakness.

They go with a kind of reasoning that cannot get to 1st base without making assumptions that cannot be proved.

Ninety-nine times out of a hundred, generalizations are nothing but over-simplifications of matters too complex for the over-simplified minds of people rassling with problems that are too tough for them.

You say you have learned that even generalizations about as few as two similar objects won't hold up. Well, my friend, I'll go you one better.

Generalizations about a single object cannot be trusted. I know a good deal about myself, generally speaking. But speaking specifically, I cannot be sure of myself, because I am subject to changes of heart, to moods, whimsies, pouts and tempers. I find myself changing from year to year. Things I once was inclined to do, reactions that once were fairly predictable, aren't the same any more.

Lazy thinkers don't want to be bothered by uncertainties. They want to generalize. This makes thinking easy for them.

Cats catch mice. Americans are generous. Frenchmen are immoral. Jewish people are shrewd businessmen. Russians are Communists. Communists are for overthrow.

Republicans are conservative. Democrats are liberal. Texans are breezy. The Swiss are cold and commercial. Italians are fun-loving. Juveniles are worse than they used to be.

Vitamins are good for you. Fast driving is dangerous. Slow driving is safe. Football players have big necks. School teachers are well-educated. Truck drivers won't patronize a restaurant that serves bad food. Blondes are dizzy.

Modern conveniences are convenient. Asiatics hold life cheaply. Politicians are crooks. Men don't make passes at girls who wear glasses. A penny saved is a penny earned.

There'll always be an England.

Or there'll always be an America.

Yeah? Not necessarily. The only way to find out whether anything is true or untrue is to take each instance in each category at face value and decide what is true or untrue at the exact moment of judgment.

The only generalization that comes close to being dependable is that the measurements are set up as national standards and thereafter kept under lock and key in a vacuum may be about the same tomorrow as they were yesterday. But only the other day I noticed that a standard was going to be given a still more controllable environment because it had been fluctuating by one umpity millionth of a speck of peach fuzz. So even that generalization was undependable.

I'm glad you have worked up a peeve about generalizations. You won't be able to get all of them out of your system, believe me. But you will be happier, healthier and easier to get along with if you make the effort.

NBC Hit For Biased Program On U-2 Incident

The National Broadcasting Co. did an extraordinary and unprecedented thing last Tuesday night when it put on for an hour an editorial, in the form of a telegram called a White Paper, which denounced the Eisenhower administration's record in the U2 episode.

David Lawrence

The NBC has a right to editorialize, just as does any newspaper or magazine. The rights of radio and TV are fully protected by the free press provision of the Constitution.

But how will the tens of millions who watched the show ever get the other side? Will equal time now be given on television to members of Congress to analyze and explain the controversial issue itself and, indeed, to point out how in some respects at least the NBC report did not give the whole story to the people?

The NBC said that "now that the passions and partisanship of an election year have subsided," the decision had been made to "retell and reexamine the story."

UNHAPPILY the passions and partisanship as between the United States and the Soviet Union in the cold war have by no means subsided.

The NBC editorial becomes a document from which the Soviets can get considerable help in their attempts, by radio and otherwise, to discredit the United States before the world.

The NBC did not give an adequate defense of the United States government's viewpoint. It merely stressed to a large extent what the partisan political critics in this country had said. Thus the NBC gave the views of most of the Democratic party's members on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on certain aspects but omitted all mention of what Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, and Senator Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the committee, said in their minority report defending the action of the President and his decision to tell the world the truth.

In its editorial conclusions, the NBC — which in the past has had a fine record of objective analysis and reporting — is open to criticism for the following statement:

"Nobody expects the United States or any other nation to stop intelligence activities but by justifying the U2 flights and implying they would continue, we materially affected the summit conference. If Khrushchev intended to wreck the conference beforehand, we gave him a ready-made excuse. If he intended to negotiate, we made it difficult for him to do so."

NOW THE FACT is that the U2 flights had been going on for four years as a means of protecting the American people against surprise attack.

All members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in their report last June, unanimously agreed that the Soviet government "had been aware of these overflights during this time" and had never made a protest.

It is also a fact that the Soviet government debated for a week after the Powers incident whether to make an issue of it and refuse to attend the summit conference.

The NBC says the United States implied in the week after the plane was forced down that the U2 flights would continue.

There was, however, no official statement to that effect but only the impressions gained by reporters and inferences drawn. Moscow, of course, drew similar inferences.

This is a sorry way for the government of the Soviet Union to act — to assume that newspaper reports and inferences are the same thing as an official statement by the United States government.

Indeed, the Soviet premier was told officially by President Eisenhower at the very first meeting of the summit at Paris on Monday, May 16, that flights of the U2 had been ordered suspended the previous week for an indefinite period.

If Mr. Khrushchev had really wanted to continue the conference, he had ample justification.

If he had wanted to negotiate, he had plenty of opportunity to accept President Eisenhower's action in suspending the flights as a signal victory for his viewpoint and go ahead with the negotiations.

AS SEN. WILEY pointed out, Mr. Khrushchev had other reasons for wanting to wreck the summit conference.

Many government officials here have expressed amazement at NBC's one-sided account of what happened in the whole controversy. They mentioned the criticism expressed on Wednesday by Jack Gould, television critic of the New York Times, who, after describing the excellent pictorial display, wrote in part:

"But the larger purpose of the presentation manifestly was to excoriate the Eisenhower administration . . . . rarely, in fact, has a TV network been so specifically critical of Washington officials."

What the NBC and others, moreover, have claimed to be "lies" were in certain respects merely the usual diplomatic equivocations about a delicate subject. Thus, to this day, law experts insist that when a press officer at the State Department said "there was no deliberate attempt to violate Soviet air space and there never has been," he was not telling a "lie," as the NBC White Paper insists.

The truth is that the United States government has long been urged to take the position that overflights at great heights are no more a violation of sovereignty than are the journeys of the Sputniks and satellites.

THE U2 was an unarmed plane. It did not intend to land in the Soviet Union but to fly over it. For years to come it will be debated whether the involuntary landing of the plane constituted a deliberate or accidental violation of Soviet sovereignty.

Nowhere in the NBC report given to the television audience was there any mention of the opposing view, which was quoted at length in these dispatches on Aug. 18.

The quotes were from a speech by Spencer M. Beresford, special counsel for the House Committee on Space and Aeronautics, delivered on Aug. 16, 1960, at Stockholm before the annual Congress of the International Astronautical Federation. He said:

"There are persuasive reasons for challenging the view that the U2 flights over Soviet territory were violations of international law."

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The Board of Education decided that breakfast and noon-hour lunch would be served free in the school to the children of needy parents.

An electric double-barred cross symbolic of the Christmas health seal was placed on the front of the Little Building in conjunction with the 1930 campaign against tuberculosis.

Firemen were called to City Market in the Allen Bldg. on St. Clair Ave. to investigate an ammonia leak in the refrigerating plant in the basement.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The city's election registration dropped

County Red Cross chapter chairman, announced that the Chester roll call resulted in $930 and 618 members enrolled.

Clarence (Buck) Irwin, Wellsville High School junior quarterback, was elected captain of the 1941 football team.

TEN YEARS AGO — About 223 north Hancock County families were affected by the flooded Ohio River, which crested at 37.1 feet at Dam 8.

A contribution of $25 to the city of East Liverpool toward the cost of snow removal was voted by American Legion Post 4.

The Crucible Steel Co. of America granted its production and maintenance employes a 16-cent-an-hour wage increase.

South Africa produces about 52 per cent of the world's supply of gold.

House Of Matter

Atomic physicists are discovering zany antics in the once-respectable House of Matter.

As the stuff that makes up the world of things, matter once had a look of solid respectability. But modern physicists have discovered that its basic building block—the atom—is nothing but a bundle of energy particles whose behavior can be eye-poppingly bizarre.

These fundamental particles may fall up instead of down. They may vanish in a poof of pure energy upon meeting one another. They may weigh more outside an atomic nucleus than inside.

The atomic never-never land where these high jinks occur is unimaginably small. Its giants are neutrons and protons, yet it would take 10 to 15 quadrillion of these particles to measure one inch. The neutrons and protons cluster together in the center of the atom to form the nucleus. Around the nucleus spin even tinier particles —electrons — like planets whirling around the sun.

If the buying public can be held on a relatively even keel, there will be a mighty surge of demand for many things, including steel, beginning early next summer.

United Nations And The Bankers

For the first time in its troubled history, the United Nations will appeal to bankers for loans to meet its expenses. The loans would be secured by the expectation that member nations will pay their dues for the upcoming year.

The arrangement would be like issuing tax anticipation notes backed by government's authority to collect revenue or seize property in lieu of payment. But in the United Nations there is no authority to collect revenue. And there is nothing to seize in lieu of payment.

The United Nations is in money trouble because Communist-bloc nations are holding back their payments. The United States—Uncle Sugar to the United Nations, too—always has carried the bulk of its financial burden and even now is advancing $20 million on its own 1961 dues to underwrite the current year.

The Kremlin's strategy is to rule or ruin the United Nations and financial ruin is the particular way chosen to bring it about. The strategy will be to withhold money support unless the General Assembly ditches Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Hammarskjold's apparent crime was to order Russian Communists out of the Belgian Congo; that was unpardonable in the Kremlin's view. His greater crime, however, has been to maintain independence of the Communist Conspiracy. As long as he stays on the job, the conspirators will have a harder time in capitalizing on international chaos.

If the U.N. General Assembly ditched Hammarskjold under these circumstances, it would be ditching its own future usefulness. Either way, it loses. It can choose between moral and financial bankruptcy.

Bankers who are going to be asked to lend it money in anticipation of future collections will have to be a thousand times more susceptible to emotional appeals than bankers are reputed to be.

The Once Over

The new musical "Camelot" should have, we think, a heroine named Eliza Doolittle Guinevere and a number entitled, "I Could Have Danced All Night With All the Knights." Also a duet by Sir Launcelot and Sir Galahad, "Get Me To The Round Table on Time." Advance sale is record-breaker, despite fact folks think Camelot is the name of a cigarette, a perfume, a new compact auto.

IF THE BABY starts bawling in Sen. Kennedy's arms we trust he won't think it indicates he has lost prestige. And if he has to walk the floor with Junior he will be reaffirming his campaign declaration "we must not stand still."

The Department of Agriculture is putting olives in school lunches to help olive-growing industry. It will also help classroom guided missile program.

A 45-passenger bus was stolen from in front of a New York lunchroom. Probably be some big city man who had never had a bus stop for him before.

Russia and other member states in the United Nations are behind $37 million in dues and assessments. They are trying to establish it as the only select club on earth in which you can keep membership cards through long and consistent appearance of names on a list of men delinquent in dues. They are for peace and better understanding, if there is no charge.

It teaches Americans to learn that Russia is the most disturbing member "for free," and that Khrushchev tried to take over the whole show without even a receipt for having paid an initiation fee. (He didn't even pay an amusement tax.) He thumped tables on a complimentary table thumper's ticket and waved his shoe on a free pass.

It is costing the United Nations $10 million a month in The Congo for rights to be shoved around, with Russia refusing to pay a "red" cent. Soviets don't even send a singing-telegram during the National Chaos week or East River Turmoil Month, without marking it "collect."

The Congo seems to have a second and third team of premiers.

A STANFORD, CONN. MAN has bought an old railraod caboose and put it on his farm. The caboose has always seemed the best part of the train to many people, located at the tail end far from noise, complaints and dirt of the coaches. From the rear platform of the caboose there was always a sort of Disneyland thrill in the view as the train whipped around curves.

'Little U.S.' At Home In England

By Ronald Thomson

ALCONBURY, England

A jet plane screeched through the sky and set glasses drumming in the little pub where the sign read: "American Spoken Here."

Not a man at the bar stirred. Outside, a plowman scarcely bothered to look up. His horse plodded on, too, unmoved.

This is East Anglia — a sort of Little America on the rich, dark soil of rural England.

The whine of a jet is as familiar as the chug of a tractor. And the accents of New England and the Deep South are as common as the rough dialect of the local country folk.

A network of U. S. and British air bases, many equipped with deadly rockets, runs through the flat, bleak and marshy countryside.

JUST OUTSIDE the city of Huntingdon, near a place called Upper Stukeley, stands one of the most important bases in Little America — Alconbury, headquarters of the 10th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing of the U. S. Air Force in Europe.

More than 7,000 American men, women and children live on or around this chilly plateau where the Stars and Stripes waves in a howling wind.

Alconbury, an oasis of the United States, radiates the American way of life. Its influence has in many ways changed the surrounding countryside.

One of England's few motels operates within a mile or two of the base. Shops in nearby towns price their goods in British pounds — and the equivalent in dollars. The quaint old pubs now stock ice — something of a revolution in a land where beer is taken tepid.

"Not that we want the English people to change just because we're here," says Capt. Robert M. Bussjaeger of St. Joseph, Mo. "As a matter of fact, I like the English beer just the way it is—kind of warm."

MOST OF the Americans found the English a little hard to understand at first.

"Their reserve used to puzzle us," says Lt. Thomas W. Armstrong of Dallas. "You know, this business about having to be introduced before you get talking.

"I'll never forget the first time I went into an English pub. There were three or four of us Americans and, from outside, we could hear people talking and laughing.

"But when we went in the door, the noise just snapped off. Nobody spoke. When we walked up to the bar we felt as if we were throwing out waves of silence all around. It wasn't very comfortable and we didn't stay long.

"Well, the next time we went back things seemed a little easier. It took us three visits to get accepted, but it was worth waiting for. Now the regulars gather around whenever we go in and everybody has a lot of fun. One of the boys goes down there Saturday nights to keep bar."

There is little or no anti-American feeling in East Anglia, where the free-spending Yanks have done a lot to make the area prosperous.

"There is absolutely no personal hostility," says Capt. Bussjaeger. "Even when someone writes a letter to the papers criticizing the United States, it's nearly always another Briton who replies for the defense."

ALCONBURY is the nerve center and control headquarters for the wing, which occupies other bases at Chelveston, Molesworth and Bruntingthorpe, 60 miles away. It's a widespread operation that costs upward of $12 million a year.

At Alconbury, you find the bowling alley and the barber shop the stream of big American automobiles, the stores and movie theater, the handsome school, the gymnasium and library, the chapel and the cafe.

For hundreds of families, the base is like a real town — the place where they have their own house, where Dad goes to work, the kids go to school and Mom does her shopping.

But there are only a limited number of American-style houses on the base so about 1,500 men and their families have to rent houses and apartments in nearby towns and villages. Rentals range from $50 to $150 a month and base authorities make sure no one gets taken by unscrupulous landlords.

Most American families live a considerable distance from the base — an average of 22 miles away. On the winding, narrow English roads that can often take more than an hour to cover.

And, of course, you have to get used to driving on the left side of the road. With 1,500 American cars covering an estimated 60,000 miles a day around the base, it's small wonder that accidents occur.

Councilmen in nearby Cambridge recently expressed concern over the accident rate to Col. James D. Kemp, cigar-smoking commander of the wing.

"We're taking strong action to cut the number of driving offenses by our personnel," Col. Kemp says. "Every accident is specially reviewed by our own traffic advisory board. And we can be tough if we want to."

ATTRACTIVE, dark-haired, Mrs. Phyllis Conway, of Huntington Park, Calif., who lives with her husband and three children on the base, has been surprised and pleased by her experience of living in England.

"Of course," she says, "some things still seem very strange. How the English people get along without central heating in their homes amazes me.

"But life here is different in many pleasant ways. There isn't the same frantic rush — the whole pace of life is more relaxed. I like that."

Mrs. Conway's oldest child, 15-year-old Kathleen, goes to school at the U.S. Lakenheath base, 40 miles from Alconbury. It means rising soon after 6 a.m., leaving home at 7 and getting back at 5 p.m. each night — a wearing schedule for a teenager.

But that is nothing unusual for American children in this part of the world.

A fleet of buses brings them from their homes to the schools at Alconbury and other bases. For many of the kids it means up to four hours traveling a day.

The children, more than 1,250 of them, are taught exclusively by American teachers. Most of the 51 teachers live in Cambridge and commute by car to and from the base schools.

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: I could not agree with you more enthusiastically about your latest peeve if you were Marilyn Monroe and I was 18.

Generalizations are one of my peeves, too. I tell you this, knowing that I continue to make them. But mostly I make them when I am needling someone. I never make them seriously any more.

They are a confession of weakness.

They go with a kind of reasoning that cannot get to 1st base without making assumptions that cannot be proved.

Ninety-nine times out of a hundred, generalizations are nothing but over-simplifications of matters too complex for the over-simplified minds of people rassling with problems that are too tough for them.

You say you have learned that even generalizations about as few as two similar objects won't hold up. Well, my friend, I'll go you one better.

Generalizations about a single object cannot be trusted. I know a good deal about myself, generally speaking. But speaking specifically, I cannot be sure of myself, because I am subject to changes of heart, to moods, whimsies, pouts and tempers. I find myself changing from year to year. Things I once was inclined to do, reactions that once were fairly predictable, aren't the same any more.

Lazy thinkers don't want to be bothered by uncertainties. They want to generalize. This makes thinking easy for them.

Cats catch mice. Americans are generous. Frenchmen are immoral. Jewish people are shrewd businessmen. Russians are Communists. Communists are for overthrow.

Republicans are conservative. Democrats are liberal. Texans are breezy. The Swiss are cold and commercial. Italians are fun-loving. Juveniles are worse than they used to be.

Vitamins are good for you. Fast driving is dangerous. Slow driving is safe. Football players have big necks. School teachers are well-educated. Truck drivers won't patronize a restaurant that serves bad food. Blondes are dizzy.

Modern conveniences are convenient. Asiatics hold life cheaply. Politicians are crooks. Men don't make passes at girls who wear glasses. A penny saved is a penny earned.

There'll always be an England.

Or there'll always be an America.

Yeah? Not necessarily. The only way to find out whether anything is true or untrue is to take each instance in each category at face value and decide what is true or untrue at the exact moment of judgment.

The only generalization that comes close to being dependable is that the measurements are set up as national standards and thereafter kept under lock and key in a vacuum may be about the same tomorrow as they were yesterday. But only the other day I noticed that a standard was going to be given a still more controllable environment because it had been fluctuating by one umpity millionth of a speck of peach fuzz. So even that generalization was undependable.

I'm glad you have worked up a peeve about generalizations. You won't be able to get all of them out of your system, believe me. But you will be happier, healthier and easier to get along with if you make the effort.

NBC Hit For Biased Program On U-2 Incident

The National Broadcasting Co. did an extraordinary and unprecedented thing last Tuesday night when it put on for an hour an editorial, in the form of a telegram called a White Paper, which denounced the Eisenhower administration's record in the U2 episode.

David Lawrence

The NBC has a right to editorialize, just as does any newspaper or magazine. The rights of radio and TV are fully protected by the free press provision of the Constitution.

But how will the tens of millions who watched the show ever get the other side? Will equal time now be given on television to members of Congress to analyze and explain the controversial issue itself and, indeed, to point out how in some respects at least the NBC report did not give the whole story to the people?

The NBC said that "now that the passions and partisanship of an election year have subsided," the decision had been made to "retell and reexamine the story."

UNHAPPILY the passions and partisanship as between the United States and the Soviet Union in the cold war have by no means subsided.

The NBC editorial becomes a document from which the Soviets can get considerable help in their attempts, by radio and otherwise, to discredit the United States before the world.

The NBC did not give an adequate defense of the United States government's viewpoint. It merely stressed to a large extent what the partisan political critics in this country had said. Thus the NBC gave the views of most of the Democratic party's members on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on certain aspects but omitted all mention of what Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, and Senator Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the committee, said in their minority report defending the action of the President and his decision to tell the world the truth.

In its editorial conclusions, the NBC — which in the past has had a fine record of objective analysis and reporting — is open to criticism for the following statement:

"Nobody expects the United States or any other nation to stop intelligence activities but by justifying the U2 flights and implying they would continue, we materially affected the summit conference. If Khrushchev intended to wreck the conference beforehand, we gave him a ready-made excuse. If he intended to negotiate, we made it difficult for him to do so."

NOW THE FACT is that the U2 flights had been going on for four years as a means of protecting the American people against surprise attack.

All members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in their report last June, unanimously agreed that the Soviet government "had been aware of these overflights during this time" and had never made a protest.

It is also a fact that the Soviet government debated for a week after the Powers incident whether to make an issue of it and refuse to attend the summit conference.

The NBC says the United States implied in the week after the plane was forced down that the U2 flights would continue.

There was, however, no official statement to that effect but only the impressions gained by reporters and inferences drawn. Moscow, of course, drew similar inferences.

This is a sorry way for the government of the Soviet Union to act — to assume that newspaper reports and inferences are the same thing as an official statement by the United States government.

Indeed, the Soviet premier was told officially by President Eisenhower at the very first meeting of the summit at Paris on Monday, May 16, that flights of the U2 had been ordered suspended the previous week for an indefinite period.

If Mr. Khrushchev had really wanted to continue the conference, he had ample justification.

If he had wanted to negotiate, he had plenty of opportunity to accept President Eisenhower's action in suspending the flights as a signal victory for his viewpoint and go ahead with the negotiations.

AS SEN. WILEY pointed out, Mr. Khrushchev had other reasons for wanting to wreck the summit conference.

Many government officials here have expressed amazement at NBC's one-sided account of what happened in the whole controversy. They mentioned the criticism expressed on Wednesday by Jack Gould, television critic of the New York Times, who, after describing the excellent pictorial display, wrote in part:

"But the larger purpose of the presentation manifestly was to excoriate the Eisenhower administration . . . . rarely, in fact, has a TV network been so specifically critical of Washington officials."

What the NBC and others, moreover, have claimed to be "lies" were in certain respects merely the usual diplomatic equivocations about a delicate subject. Thus, to this day, law experts insist that when a press officer at the State Department said "there was no deliberate attempt to violate Soviet air space and there never has been," he was not telling a "lie," as the NBC White Paper insists.

The truth is that the United States government has long been urged to take the position that overflights at great heights are no more a violation of sovereignty than are the journeys of the Sputniks and satellites.

THE U2 was an unarmed plane. It did not intend to land in the Soviet Union but to fly over it. For years to come it will be debated whether the involuntary landing of the plane constituted a deliberate or accidental violation of Soviet sovereignty.

Nowhere in the NBC report given to the television audience was there any mention of the opposing view, which was quoted at length in these dispatches on Aug. 18.

The quotes were from a speech by Spencer M. Beresford, special counsel for the House Committee on Space and Aeronautics, delivered on Aug. 16, 1960, at Stockholm before the annual Congress of the International Astronautical Federation. He said:

"There are persuasive reasons for challenging the view that the U2 flights over Soviet territory were violations of international law."

House Of Matter

Atomic physicists are discovering zany antics in the once-respectable House of Matter.

As the stuff that makes up the world of things, matter once had a look of solid respectability. But modern physicists have discovered that its basic building block—the atom—is nothing but a bundle of energy particles whose behavior can be eye-poppingly bizarre.

These fundamental particles may fall up instead of down. They may vanish in a poof of pure energy upon meeting one another. They may weigh more outside an atomic nucleus than inside.

The atomic never-never land where these high jinks occur is unimaginably small. Its giants are neutrons and protons, yet it would take 10 to 15 quadrillion of these particles to measure one inch. The neutrons and protons cluster together in the center of the atom to form the nucleus. Around the nucleus spin even tinier particles —electrons — like planets whirling around the sun.

Child Scalded At Salineville

A Salineville area child, burned when she fell into a bucket of hot water Saturday afternoon, is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital.

Eight other persons were treated at the hospital over the weekend, including a LaCroft man shot while hunting.

Loretta Eastham, 7, daugher of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Eastham of Salineville R. D. 1, suffered first and second degree burns of the buttocks when she slipped and fell into a bucket of hot water at home. She was admitted Saturday at 6 p. m.

Elmer Smith, 39, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, was treated Sunday noon for a gunshot wound of the right leg. He said he was accidentally hit by a shotgun blast while hunting with friends.

Two others were treated Saturday. John March, 12, son of John March of Radio Heights, injured his left leg while sled riding about noon and Edward Gryzmola of Cleveland cut his left thumb on a knife while butchering hogs at Salineville shortly before noon.

Five others were hurt Sunday afternoon and evening.

Timothy Toothman, 1, son of Robert Toothman of Carolina Ave., Chester, was burned on both legs and feet when he fell on a furnace register at home.

Jack Buckley, 8, son of Jack Buckley of Minerva St., cut his left thumb on a saw at home.

Richard Taylor, 10, son of Arden Taylor of Cadiz, lacerated his left knee when he fell while playing football.

Larry White, 12, son of Clarence White of the Y. & O. Rd., was treated for dog bites of the left arm.

Brenda Grodhaus, 2½, daughter of John Grodhaus of Hammondsville, cut her right eyebrow in a fall.

Round Hot Dogs Seen Answer To Problem

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP) — When Columnist Seymour Rosenberg suggested in the Spartanburg Herald that hot dogs be served on bagels at football games, Mrs. Martha K. Stephens of nearby Woodruff wrote in to query:

"How can you put a long narrow hot dog on a round bagel?"

It's quite simple, replied Rosenberg, just get one of the meat companies to make round hot dogs.

Driver Finds Other Keys Fit His Auto

ATCHISON, Kan. (AP) — David Tull parked his car in a downtown lot. When he returned for it several hours later, he found it apparently had been used by joyriders.

Two keys, neither of which belonged to Tull, and a note were on the seat.

"Could you use these?" read the note. "They fit."

A Christmas program was presented. A vocal trio comprised of Mrs. Donald Smith, Mrs. Kenneth Everett and Mrs. Edward Nold sang "Sleep Little Dove," a French carol, and "Ye Watchers and "Ye Holy Ones," a German carol, accompanied by Mrs. Theodore Greener.

Mrs. C. S. Palmer, violinist, played an E Major Sonata by Handel, also with Mrs. Greener at the piano.

Soloists Listed

"Jesu Bambino" by Pietro Yon was sung by Miss Mary Lodge, accompanied by Mrs. Dallas Hepburn, who also played a piano solo, "Fantasy Impromptu," by Chopin. Mrs. Lewis sang an old folk song "Jesus, Jesus Rest Your Head," accompanied by Mrs. Greener.

The hymn of the month and familiar Christmas carols were sung by the group. Three new members, Mrs. Gerald Chappel, Mrs. G. E. Powell and Mrs. William Spangler, were present for the first time, making the total attendance 21.

Refreshments were served from a table in the dining room with a Christmas center arrangement and lighted candelabra. Mrs. John Blocksom poured.

Yule Party Held

Members of the Optimistic Club held a Christmas party Friday evening, with dinner at the Hotel Wick and later went to the home of Mrs. Blanche Capehart of N. Market St. for a social hour and gift exchange.

The hostess served lunch. Names were drawn for a gift exchange Dec. 16. Plans are pending for a dinner.

Reservations Due

Mrs. James Pendry today reminded members of the Music Club, Monday Club, DAR, Coterie, Garden Club and Sorosis that reservations for the joint clubs Christmas dinner party in the Methodist Church Friday are to be made by Tuesday. Fight Loser Due To Face Murder Charge At Xenia

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Authorities say David Klontz, 31, of nearby Cedarville, will be charged with first-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of a Clark County man who reportedly twice beat up Klontz in fist fights.

The victim, Marvin T. Toner, 30, of Medway, was mortally wounded Sunday when struck in the head by a single charge from a 12-gauge shotgun.

The shooting occurred outside the home of Toner's brother, Lawrence, near Cedarville, a few hours after Klontz and the victim engaged in a fight in the VFW club parking lot in Medway. What precipitated the fight was not known.

But Sheriff Russell A. Bradley said Toner got the better of Klontz in the brawl—just as he apparently did in another fight two years before when Klontz threatened to get even.

After the parking lot episode, the sheriff went on, the two men, together with Toner's brother and Klontz's wife, Helen, 28, drove to the brother's home.

As they got out of the car, the sheriff said, Klontz allegedly picked up the victim's shotgun from beneath the seat and fired a blast at Toner, who died 20 minutes later.

A polemic is a controversial discussion.

Fumes Claim Couple

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati couple was found dead in their apartment home Sunday, victims of carbon monoxide fumes, police reported. Police broke in at request of the landlord and discovered the bodies of Joseph Wilmes, 72, and his wife, Rosella, 55, in a room with an unvented space heater going full blast. Neither had been seen since Wednesday, police said.

He, like others, however, emphasized it will take time, and careful examination.

The plan is patterned on the precedent-shattering establishment of the United Church of South India in 1947, uniting Presbyterians, Methodists, Episcopalians and Congregationalists.

Dr. Blake proposed specifically a merger of these four groups in the United States. He included the United Church of Christ, a presently evolving union of Congregationalists and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

All four stages of the Scout rocket use solid propellants, and this was the first attempt to launch a satellite with such a vehicle. No date has been set for a follow-up effort.

If it had worked as planned, the inflatable satellite, 12 feet in diameter, would have orbited for a few weeks to perhaps a year, giving useful information as to the amount of drag resistance that exists, against large uniform surfaces, at orbital altitudes.

General government, $5,888,844 (up $140,622); educational, $77,020,171 (down $70,370); charities and corrections, $2,767,611 (up $182,465).

Ash recommended no appropriation for the state economic recovery program for which the 1960 session provided $4,250,000, because there now is no revenue in sight for it. The new Legislature might provide some.

Some 103 attended the annual congregational fellowship dinner meeting of the Ohio View Lutheran Church Friday night in the Industry fire hall.

Following the invocation by the Rev. James N. Servey, pastor, a review of the book, "Doughboy Chaplain," was given by its author, Dr. Edward K. Rogers of Greenville, who is secretary of evangelism and stewardship for the Pittsburgh Synod of United Lutheran Churches of America.

Members voted to adopt the 1961 budget, which was prepared by the finance committee in October and approved and recommended for adoption by the church council in November. Homer Paul, finance chairman, proposed its adoption.

Rev. Servey announced that a shipment of new cabinets for the fellowship hall kitchen has arrived and they have been installed by Charles Newcombe and his son, Charles Newcomb Jr.

Rev. Servey said that two additional choir robes are needed for new choir members. Children were shown a cartoon film strip in the fellowship hall.

A cut glass bowl of Christmas flowers and lighted red tapers centered the speaker's table. Green Christmas ornaments and tapers centered the dinner table. Mrs. Paul Brucker and Mrs. Henry Best were co-hostesses. Mrs. George Myers was telephone chairman.

Storms Slam North Europe

LONDON (AP)—Northern Europe today began cleaning up after a violent weekend of raging storms and floods which spread death and destruction.

Britain bore the brunt of the storm, which sent rivers crashing out of their banks and flooded dozens of villages and miles of farmland. Property damage was heavy in London. At least two deaths were reported.

Four deaths were counted in Holland. France, Germany, Denmark and Belgium also were badly hit.

More rain is expected and many areas, especially in Britain, still face serious flood threats.

Some rivers in Britain's West Country and Midlands were expected to crest today.

The storm, climaxing the wettest autumn for Britain in more than 100 years, punched at the island with 80 m.p.h. winds.

Forty counties were flooded and Wales virtually was cut off from England.

Hundreds of marooned men, women and children were taken to safety by volunteers who toiled into the early morning hours.

Tips Offered On Wall Tiles

Question: We are remodeling our kitchen, using metal wall tiles over the painted plaster. The last time the walls were painted, about three years ago, we used rubber-based paint. Can the tile mastic be applied right over the paint?

Answer: If the wall had been enameled, the mastic would adhere properly. But, where rubber-based paint has been used, it is necessary to give the walls a coat of shellac before applying the mastic.

However, let's assume that you are using regular tile mastic. If you have not yet purchased it, you might see whether you can get a special type of mastic which eliminates the need for shellacking.

Question: I'll be using a paint roller on walls for the first time soon. Any tips you can give me?

Answer: Here are some don'ts. Don't overload the roller, which causes dripping. Don't start rolling with a downward stroke. Don't make the common mistake of rolling too fast, which produces a spray. Don't spin the roller at the end of a stroke. Don't resume painting in a freshly-painted portion, it being necessary to start on a nearby dry portion and rolling into the painted area.

HERE'S A PARTY ROOM that was really designed for partying. Occupying the whole top floor, this rumpus room is host to everything from card sessions to teen-ager's dances. Sweeping beams of glue laminated Douglas fir outline dramatic shape and size of the ceiling, which is decked in tawny beige fir. Walls paneled in a knotty grade of western red cedar give the room an informal, festive atmosphere.

Party Rooms Gain In Favor

PORTLAND, Ore. — The dreams of most American families is to have a party room in the house—one of those wonderful, rambling rooms suited to everything from table tennis to a Saturday evening dance session.

In many homes, such a room is just waiting to be discovered and brought to life. It's hiding in the guise of a junk-filled attic, an unfinished basement, an old-fashioned, enclosed back porch, or even the garage out back.

In most of these areas, wall studding is already in place, and all that remains to be done is to put up the finished wall, floor and ceiling materials. Even in a basement with concrete walls and floors, finish walls and floors are easily erected.

Furring strips can be tacked to concrete walls and floor joists attached to concrete floors with cement guns. Flooring and wall panel materials are then easily nailed to the furring strips and floor joists.

Much of a rumpus room's success depends on its decor. An inviting, gay room can start the party rolling all by itself, while a room that is obviously contrived or informal to the point of being messy or dull might easily squelch the guests' enthusiasm.

Many families turn to wood as a sure bet to set a pleasantly relaxed pace in their party room. Wood paneling of tawny beige Douglas fir or rich, ruddy western red cedar are favorites.

Clear grades of these woods are the best choice for a small party room, while knotty grades do well in a room of a larger size which can take heavier texture in walls. Finishing the wood paneling with washable, clear plastic lacquer is a smart idea.

Wood flooring is another favorite for the rumpus room, especially if it's to be used for dancing. Again, softwoods such as Douglas fir or west coast hemlock are a good choice, for these woods actually become tougher the more they are walked on. For an exciting ceiling rich in warm coloring and texture, repeat the fir or hemlock one-inch flooring on the top side.

Psychologists have determined that colors from the warm side of the spectrum — red, yellow, orange, gold — are stimulating and inviting. These are best for party room use. Cool colors can appear in small amounts as accent shades.

Two Methods Are Suggested For Proper Attic Insulation

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY
Written For Bell Syndicate

Practically every home owner knows how essential it is to insulate an attic. But many of them, having decided to do the job, do it in the easiest way and then wonder why it is not as satisfactory as they anticipated.

There are two generally accepted ways in which to insulate an attic.

One way, the easy way, is to pour fill insulation between the attic floor beams or lay blanket insulation between them. Of course this does some good, but it completely isolates the attic from the rest of the house and results in an ice-cold attic in winter and a red-hot attic in summer.

In a house which has been done in this manner, you can stand on a chair and put your hand against the ceiling of a room below the attic, in summer, and find the ceiling just as hot as the attic. In winter, the attic is so cold that any moisture-laden air working up from the house below causes ice to form in the attic. When this melts on warm days it causes ceiling and wall stains.

The second way to insulate an attic, and the definitely proper method, is to place the blanket insulation between the roof rafters. This keeps the attic cool in summer when the windows or louvers are open and keeps it warm in winter when the windows are closed. In other words, it does about a 100 per cent better job than the floor insulation method. Any experienced builder or architect will agree.

When the roof insulation method is used instead of the floor method, two-inch insulation should be used and stapled to the lower edges of the rafters. This leaves a dead-air space between the insulation and the underside of the roof.

Circulating System Assures Hot Water At Turn Of Faucet

CHICAGO — Do you have to wait for hot water when you turn on the hot water faucet?

Such waits can be avoided by the use of a circulating system. This consists of a loop of pipe between the water heater and the individual fixtures.

With a circulating system, the hot water is constantly in circulation between the water heater and the fixtures. Thus hot water is immediately available at the turn of a faucet.

A circulating system is especially desirable in a house with two or more bathrooms or a ranch type house that covers a large area.

A circulating system not only offers the advantage of instant hot water, but it also effects a saving in fuel to heat the water. Without a circulating system it is necessary to let the water run from the hot water faucet until hot water is available. This wastes water and fuel.

The Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau points out that if a circulating system were applied to all domestic hot water installations, the saving in water and in fuel, on a citywide basis, would be substantial.

The bureau also calls attention to the importance of thorough insulation of the hot water piping. This is desirable, irrespective of whether the system is circulating or not.

Householders who wish further information on modern methods of supplying domestic hot water are advised to get in touch with an experienced plumbing contractor.

How Can I?

Q. Our upright piano seems to "dominate" the small room in which it sits. How can I make the piano blend in better with this room?

A. Change the color of the piano to match the wall, or blend with the wallpaper. Give it two coats of flat paint or enamel, not forgetting to include the stool or bench. Although this seems a daring idea, it does wonders for the decorating scheme of a room.

Q. How can I repair some split wooden siding on my house?

A. This is usually very easy to repair and doesn't even have to be removed. Simply spread some waterproof glue on the split edges and clamp them together firmly.

Q. How can I prevent salt from getting into the ice cream container while freezing?

A. Cover the top of the ice cream container with a sheet of waxed paper before the freezer lid is put on, and this will be avoided.

Ohio Fugitives Refuse Oklahoma Extradition

WILBURTON, Okla. (AP) — Three escapees from the Pike County jail at Waverly, Ohio, have been captured in Oklahoma but refuse to be returned to Ohio.

Sheriff Jim Lawrence said Ronald Edgar Martin, 20, Portsmouth, Ohio; Ted D. Elliott, 17, believed from Forrest City, Ark., and (Hiram (Junior) Tackett, 27, Rt. 1, Piketon, Ohio, have declined to waive extradition.

All three had been held on auto theft charges—in addition to a forgery charge against Tackett—when they escaped from the Waverly jail early Wednesday morning. Seven other prisoners remained behind.

The escapees pushed a notched broom handle through a peep hole in the jail door and lifted the outside handle to gain freedom.

California Driver Hurt In Lone County Mishap

A California driver was injured slightly when his late model compact car went off the highway and struck a tree in the lone weekend traffic mishap, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported today.

Evald Jorgensen, 64, of Los Angeles was driving west on Route 30 near Kensington when his car went left of center and smashed into a large evergreen tree, the patrol reported.

Jorgensen received lacerations of the head and scalp. He was treated by a Hanoverton physician. The mishap occurred Sunday at 5:10 p. m.

Jorgensen was cited for driving left of center, according to the patrol. He was driving alone.

Enrollment Rises For U.S. Colleges

CINCINNATI (AP) — Campus populations have swollen anew this year—as expected—at America's colleges and universities, says a University of Cincinnati educator.

Dr. Garland G. Parker, Cincinreport prepared for the journal "School and Society" that:

"The big schools continue to get bigger, but so do the smaller ones. Higher education appears to be increasingly a matter of large-scale production."

In 1,016 accredited four-year colleges and universities, there are 2,039,854 full-time students, or six per cent more than 1959, and 2,952,541 full- and part-time students, a five per cent hike.

With the University of California unable to report full-time figures in time for this study, here are the nation's 10 largest institutions in full-time enrollment:

1. State University of New York, 33,939; 2. College of the City of New York, 31,909; 3. Minnesota, 28,277; 4. Illinois, 25,900; 5. Wisconsin, 24,007; 6. Michigan State (East Lansing), 23,373; 7. Ohio State, 22,243; 8. Texas, 21,186; 9. Michigan (Ann Arbor), 20,903; 10. Indiana, 17,890.

Tire Theft Probed

LISBON — Sheriff's deputies are investigating the theft of a 710-x-15 winter tread tire taken sometime last night from a car belonging to Steve Gbur of West Point, which was parked in front of his home, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Ohio Fugitives Refuse Oklahoma Extradition

WILBURTON, Okla. (AP) — Three escapees from the Pike County jail at Waverly, Ohio, have been captured in Oklahoma but refuse to be returned to Ohio.

Sheriff Jim Lawrence said Ronald Edgar Martin, 20, Portsmouth, Ohio; Ted D. Elliott, 17, believed from Forrest City, Ark., and (Hiram (Junior) Tackett, 27, Rt. 1, Piketon, Ohio, have declined to waive extradition.

All three had been held on auto theft charges—in addition to a forgery charge against Tackett—when they escaped from the Waverly jail early Wednesday morning. Seven other prisoners remained behind.

The escapees pushed a notched broom handle through a peep hole in the jail door and lifted the outside handle to gain freedom.

California Driver Hurt In Lone County Mishap

A California driver was injured slightly when his late model compact car went off the highway and struck a tree in the lone weekend traffic mishap, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported today.

Evald Jorgensen, 64, of Los Angeles was driving west on Route 30 near Kensington when his car went left of center and smashed into a large evergreen tree, the patrol reported.

Jorgensen received lacerations of the head and scalp. He was treated by a Hanoverton physician. The mishap occurred Sunday at 5:10 p. m.

Jorgensen was cited for driving left of center, according to the patrol. He was driving alone.

Party Rooms Gain In Favor

PORTLAND, Ore. — The dreams of most American families is to have a party room in the house—one of those wonderful, rambling rooms suited to everything from table tennis to a Saturday evening dance session.

In many homes, such a room is just waiting to be discovered and brought to life. It's hiding in the guise of a junk-filled attic, an unfinished basement, an old-fashioned, enclosed back porch, or even the garage out back.

In most of these areas, wall studding is already in place, and all that remains to be done is to put up the finished wall, floor and ceiling materials. Even in a basement with concrete walls and floors, finish walls and floors are easily erected.

Furring strips can be tacked to concrete walls and floor joists attached to concrete floors with cement guns. Flooring and wall panel materials are then easily nailed to the furring strips and floor joists.

Much of a rumpus room's success depends on its decor. An inviting, gay room can start the party rolling all by itself, while a room that is obviously contrived or informal to the point of being messy or dull might easily squelch the guests' enthusiasm.

Many families turn to wood as a sure bet to set a pleasantly relaxed pace in their party room. Wood paneling of tawny beige Douglas fir or rich, ruddy western red cedar are favorites.

Clear grades of these woods are the best choice for a small party room, while knotty grades do well in a room of a larger size which can take heavier texture in walls. Finishing the wood paneling with washable, clear plastic lacquer is a smart idea.

Wood flooring is another favorite for the rumpus room, especially if it's to be used for dancing. Again, softwoods such as Douglas fir or west coast hemlock are a good choice, for these woods actually become tougher the more they are walked on. For an exciting ceiling rich in warm coloring and texture, repeat the fir or hemlock one-inch flooring on the top side.

Psychologists have determined that colors from the warm side of the spectrum — red, yellow, orange, gold — are stimulating and inviting. These are best for party room use. Cool colors can appear in small amounts as accent shades.

Enrollment Rises For U.S. Colleges

CINCINNATI (AP) — Campus populations have swollen anew this year—as expected—at America's colleges and universities, says a University of Cincinnati educator.

Dr. Garland G. Parker, Cincinreport prepared for the journal "School and Society" that:

"The big schools continue to get bigger, but so do the smaller ones. Higher education appears to be increasingly a matter of large-scale production."

In 1,016 accredited four-year colleges and universities, there are 2,039,854 full-time students, or six per cent more than 1959, and 2,952,541 full- and part-time students, a five per cent hike.

With the University of California unable to report full-time figures in time for this study, here are the nation's 10 largest institutions in full-time enrollment:

1. State University of New York, 33,939; 2. College of the City of New York, 31,909; 3. Minnesota, 28,277; 4. Illinois, 25,900; 5. Wisconsin, 24,007; 6. Michigan State (East Lansing), 23,373; 7. Ohio State, 22,243; 8. Texas, 21,186; 9. Michigan (Ann Arbor), 20,903; 10. Indiana, 17,890.

You Can Save On Fuel Bills

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Sometimes you have to spend money to save money. This is especially true in the matter of heating your house.

It costs money to install weatherstripping or storm windows and doors or insulation or, better yet, all three. But there is no doubt that taking any or all of these steps will save you money in the long run.

Irrespective of budget limitations, there are a number of other things you can do to allow your heating plant to operate efficiently and thus keep your fuel bills to a minimum.

First of all, you have to make sure that the warmth generated by your oil burner or other heating unit stays in the house. Don't open outside doors and windows indiscriminately.

If you sleep with the windows open, keep the bedroom door closed. Otherwise you will be gathering up your heating dollars from all over the house and sending them out into the night air by way of the open bedroom windows.

When you are cleaning and airing a room, close the door to the rest of the house.

If, for instance, you are airing out the upstairs bathroom, a sure way to pull the heat out of the downstairs hall is to leave that bathroom door open.

To allow the heat to circulate properly, keep furniture away from radiators or registers. Entirely aside from fuel economy, this step will prevent furniture joints from pulling apart.

Nearly everybody knows by now that the thermostat should be located properly to get a true reading of the house's heating needs.

But we've heard differences of opinion on how much, if any, a thermostat should be lowered during the night. We asked the Oil Heating Institute for its opinion and got this reply: To conserve fuel, set the thermostat about 7 degrees below the daytime setting. And when going away for several days or more, lower the thermostat setting to 55 degrees.

17 Rescued Off Freighter

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) —Coast Guardmen plucked 17 men from a stranded ship Sunday, but the 14 crewmn of the Francisco Morazan ran into new problems with U.S. immigration officials.

The icebreaker Mackinaw, which had been standing by since shortly after the 246-foot freighter hit a reef off South Manitou Island Tuesday night, took off the captain, 13 crewmen and three insurance agents.

The Mackinaw pulled into Grand Traverse Bay around midnight and anchored off shore. Immigration officials were expected today to check the crew.

The Coast Guard said it did not know when an attempt would be made to salvage the Liberian freighter and its 900 tons of general cargo. The Morazan, which ran aground in a storm, had pounded badly on the rocks and torn holes in the bottom.

The wife of the Greek captain, Eduardo Trivizas, was removed Thursday. She is expecting a child.

T. R. Martinez, an immigration official from Detroit, said six of the ship's crew, which is made up of Spaniards, Cubans and Greeks, could be deported. He said the action was requested by Chicago immigartion officials.

Q. How can I fill and smooth off the normally rough edges of plywood panels?

A. Use ordinary linoleum paste. Most brands shrink very little in drying, and can be sanded to a smooth, hard finish. But if the plywood is to be finished in a natural color, apply the cement carefully, since it possibly might stain the wood.

Q. How can I keep the air circulating around vegetables?

Q. How can I make use of old shirts?

A. The tails can be used for making laundry bags, shoe bags, or bags for holding dust cloths, and when these bags have served their time, they can be used as dusting cloths.

Earl Mundy Returned By Wellsville Firemen

Earl Mundy was returned as president of the Wellsville volunteer fire department during election of officers Sunday night at the station.

Other officers elected were Tom Lanam, vice president; Dan Hitt, treasurer; Jack Phillips, secretary; Charles Leatherberry, assistant chief; Harold Dickinson and Carl Drummond, captains; Don Miller, three-year trustee, and Leatherberry, custodian.

Lanam, Dickinson and Drummond are the only new officers. All others were re-elected. Plans were made to hold a Christmas party for children of the Jefferson County Children's Home, who now are located at Cadiz.

Senate Opens Boxing Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the reported illness of one of its key witnesses, a Senate subcommittee opens hearings today on what control, if any, racketeers exercise over professional boxing.

Aides to the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee said they had been notified that Joseph P. Barone was hospitalized last week in Allentown, Pa., for treatment of depression. Barone, manager of heavyweight boxer Sonny Liston, had been ordered to appear today.

Other first-day witnesses for the much-postponed hearings include Herman (Hymie the Mink) Wallman, New York fight manager and furrier, and Truman K. Gibson Jr., New York and Chicago boxing promoter.

Chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., had said in advance he wanted to question Barone on what happens when hoodlums, operating behind the scenes, try to muscle in on the earnings of a promising fighter.

Summoned for the eight days of hearings are 25 or more boxers, fight managers, promoters and others.

The hearings are the first since the subcommittee last June heard Jake LaMotta, former middleweight champion, testify that he lost a fixed Madison Square Garden bout in 1947 to Billy Fox.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Restless Child Ruins Parents' Sleep

You and I don't know how many hundreds of fathers and mothers have their sleep impaired by the youngster as old as two, three or four who wakes up several times at night demanding a bottle, or who decides to get up unduly early. Here's how a Texas mother tells about the way her tot robs her and her husband of sufficient sleep: "Our only child, two years old, has been an exceedingly poor sleeper from birth. We don't seem to be able to get her to bed until 8:30 or 9 and then almost invariably she wakes up about an hour later wanting another bottle.

Dr. Garry Meyers

"OCCASIONALLY, SHE does need attention, such as a change of diapers, but most of the time she just wants up again or to have another bottle. Most nights she is awake again at 2. Then she wakes up in the morning usually before 6.

"It is not necessary for my husband and me to get up until 7, as he has only about a ten-minute drive to work and that gives ample time to get him off.

"You can see by this sleeping schedule, of our daughter that we don't get many hours sleep a night, and it is always interrupted. It is really just about to get me down. I am a poor sleeper myself, and I do need at least eight hours sleep a night.

"I am so tired during the day that I can hardly get through my work, nor can I give my child happy companionship, feeling the way I do."

MY REPLY IN part:

If you are going to correct that child's sleep habits you will have to resolve to let her cry it out. If she gets ample food during the day, there is no reason why she should have a bottle at night.

You should resolve to hold her to one bottle about the middle of the night at first and then gradually let her go the whole night through.

Once you get her to sleep through till morning, the next thing will be to train her to stay in bed until you call her or the clock rings.

I assume you have had this child and her feeding by day carefully checked by your physician.

2 Men Injured Slightly In Crash Near Midland

A city motorist and his passenger, a Midland man, were treated at City Hospital Sunday at 3:25 a. m. after their car overturned on Route 68 a mile west of Midland and ended up about 10 feet from adjoining railroad tracks.

Wilbur Zanders, 33, of 513 Virginia Ave., East Liverpool, received a laceration of the left ear and Jesse Melvin, 24, of 449 Penn Ave., Midland, suffered a laceration of the forehead and right arm.

Midland police, notified at 2:26 a. m., sent an ambulance. The 1958 hardtop, headed from Midland to East Liverpool, overturned near the Midland incinerator plant and went over a bank. Two guard posts were knocked out. The car, a total loss, landed on its wheels.

There are about 1,000 species of trees in the United States, but only about 100 species are used commercially for lumber. Most lumber comes from 35 species.

Earl Mundy Returned By Wellsville Firemen

Earl Mundy was returned as president of the Wellsville volunteer fire department during election of officers Sunday night at the station.

Other officers elected were Tom Lanam, vice president; Dan Hitt, treasurer; Jack Phillips, secretary; Charles Leatherberry, assistant chief; Harold Dickinson and Carl Drummond, captains; Don Miller, three-year trustee, and Leatherberry, custodian.

Lanam, Dickinson and Drummond are the only new officers. All others were re-elected. Plans were made to hold a Christmas party for children of the Jefferson County Children's Home, who now are located at Cadiz.

In the past, the department always has held a party for the children during the homecoming celebration parade. No parade was held this year so the department is taking the money donated for this purpose and will hold a Christmas party.

Senate Opens Boxing Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the reported illness of one of its key witnesses, a Senate subcommittee opens hearings today on what control, if any, racketeers exercise over professional boxing.

Aides to the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee said they had been notified that Joseph P. Barone was hospitalized last week in Allentown, Pa., for treatment of depression. Barone, manager of heavyweight boxer Sonny Liston, had been ordered to appear today.

Other first-day witnesses for the much-postponed hearings include Herman (Hymie the Mink) Wallman, New York fight manager and furrier, and Truman K. Gibson Jr., New York and Chicago boxing promoter.

Chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., had said in advance he wanted to question Barone on what happens when hoodlums, operating behind the scenes, try to muscle in on the earnings of a promising fighter.

Summoned for the eight days of hearings are 25 or more boxers, fight managers, promoters and others.

The hearings are the first since the subcommittee last June heard Jake LaMotta, former middleweight champion, testify that he lost a fixed Madison Square Garden bout in 1947 to Billy Fox.

The East Liverpool Chapter said East Liverpool families also are eligible to participate in the program. The local number is FU 6-1444.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Restless Child Ruins Parents' Sleep

You and I don't know how many hundreds of fathers and mothers have their sleep impaired by the youngster as old as two, three or four who wakes up several times at night demanding a bottle, or who decides to get up unduly early. Here's how a Texas mother tells about the way her tot robs her and her husband of sufficient sleep: "Our only child, two years old, has been an exceedingly poor sleeper from birth. We don't seem to be able to get her to bed until 8:30 or 9 and then almost invariably she wakes up about an hour later wanting another bottle.

"OCCASIONALLY, SHE does need attention, such as a change of diapers, but most of the time she just wants up again or to have another bottle. Most nights she is awake again at 2. Then she wakes up in the morning usually before 6.

"It is not necessary for my husband and me to get up until 7, as he has only about a ten-minute drive to work and that gives ample time to get him off.

"You can see by this sleeping schedule, of our daughter that we don't get many hours sleep a night, and it is always interrupted. It is really just about to get me down. I am a poor sleeper myself, and I do need at least eight hours sleep a night.

"I am so tired during the day that I can hardly get through my work, nor can I give my child happy companionship, feeling the way I do."

MY REPLY IN part:

If you are going to correct that child's sleep habits you will have to resolve to let her cry it out. If she gets ample food during the day, there is no reason why she should have a bottle at night.

You should resolve to hold her to one bottle about the middle of the night at first and then gradually let her go the whole night through.

Once you get her to sleep through till morning, the next thing will be to train her to stay in bed until you call her or the clock rings.

I assume you have had this child and her feeding by day carefully checked by your physician.

2 Men Injured Slightly In Crash Near Midland

A city motorist and his passenger, a Midland man, were treated at City Hospital Sunday at 3:25 a. m. after their car overturned on Route 68 a mile west of Midland and ended up about 10 feet from adjoining railroad tracks.

Wilbur Zanders, 33, of 513 Virginia Ave., East Liverpool, received a laceration of the left ear and Jesse Melvin, 24, of 449 Penn Ave., Midland, suffered a laceration of the forehead and right arm.

Midland police, notified at 2:26 a. m., sent an ambulance. The 1958 hardtop, headed from Midland to East Liverpool, overturned near the Midland incinerator plant and went over a bank. Two guard posts were knocked out. The car, a total loss, landed on its wheels.

There are about 1,000 species of trees in the United States, but only about 100 species are used commercially for lumber. Most lumber comes from 35 species.

SANTA and the BOY FISH by Lucrece Hudgins Beale

CHAPTER ONE

Once upon a time, in a little village by a faraway sea, there lived a boy named Michael McBurney. His father was a fisherman, but times were hard. There were many other fishermen in the village and not many buyers of fish could be found. Michael's mother mended nets to earn a few extra pennies and the family just managed to get along.

Michael did not mind being poor. His one great love was the sea and that was free. Every day he played in the water that lapped the village shores. He swam and rowed and skipped stones. He fished and searched for schells. All these things cost him nothing and he was very happy.

But he was happiest of all when he sat on the rocky cliffs above the village and stared across the sea, listening to secret sounds no one else could hear and seeing strange things no one else could see.

This may sound impossible but it was true nevertheless. Things often happened to Michael that no one, not even his mother, would ever believe. Yet, when people scoffed at his stories, there was always something they couldn't explain.

—:—

FOR INSTANCE, one stormy night, Michael was awakened from a deep sleep. He heard the wind racing around the eaves and the rain thrashing against the window panes. He snuggled deeper in the covers and was almost asleep again when suddenly he heard a cloppety-clop, cloppety - clop right over his head!

He sat up in bed and his mouth fell open as he strained to hear. There it was again - cloppety-clop, cloppety-clop - clear as could be.

Michael tore from his bed and raced to his parents' room.

"There's a horse! A horse on the roof!"

His father was angry at being awakened and his mother told Michael it was a dream and sent him back to bed. But the next morning he still insisted it had been so and when he went outside he found a horse shoe lying at the door.

Triumphantly he carried the shoe to his parents crying, "Look! I told you, I told you!"

Michael heard secret sounds from the sea.

Still his father scoffed. "It was probably thrown there by someone from the road. Forget it now — it's just another of your wild ideas." But there was a look of wonder in the old fisherman's eyes as he turned away from his son.

—:—

NO ONE had believed Michael either when he swore he had heard a fish playing a mouth harp in the sea and had seen a bird flying a kite that had been caught for three weeks in a tree.

Still people couldn't explain how a mouth harp had been found later on the beach nor why the kite that had been so long in the tree was no longer there.

Michael spent more and more time by himself on the beach. He longed to know what lay beneath the surface of the sea.

When he opened his eyes under water he could see nothing, yet he was sure that marvelous things were there if only he could swim deep enough and see clearly enough to find them.

Then one day a wonderful thing happened. When he went to his usual place on the cliff above the village he found a diving mask and a pair of rubber flippers lying on the rocks.

"Where did they come from?" wondered Michael. "Who in the village would be rich enough to own such things?"

Suddenly, snatching up his find, Michael rushed down to the shore. He slipped the flippers on his feet. He fitted the mask over his face. Then, his heart racing with excitement , he slipped into the water to find the wonderful kingdom he knew must be there.

Shawkey Quits Liquor Post In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — Liquor Commissioner Morris Shawkey has resigned to make way for the coming administration of Democratic Gov.-elect W. W. Barron.

Shawkey's resignation is not effective until Jan. 16, the day Barron will be inaugurated, but he wrote Gov. Underwood last week that "the door is ajar" should Barron desire that he serve beyond that date.

The commissioner promised Underwood that the Liquor Department would be in "a fine condition of solvency" when his successor takes office.

Shawkey, 56, is a former Sistersville newspaperman and member of the State Board of Probation and Parole. He was appointed by Underwood to the liquor post on March 17, 1959.

Recession Seen Preceding High Production Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—National production should reach record levels next year despite higher unemployment and a brief recession early in the year, a U.S. Chamber of Commerce economist predicts.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, the chamber's director of economic researeh, said the brief slowdown should bring a drop of 5 to 10 billion dollars in the annual production rate during the cutback.

Schmidt made his predictions Sunday to a chamber business outlook conferance despite cautiously optimistic reports from the auto, steel, banking and building industries.

Mother Resumes Testimony About Drugged Children

CLEVELAND (AP)— Presentation of testimony in the second child neglect trial of Mrs. Lillian Fratantonio, mother of Cleveland's "sleeping beauties," may be concluded today.

Questioning of the 29-year-old mother was to resume as the trial in Juvenile Court entered its third week. Her husband, Vincent, a brewery company employe, was also expected to take the stand as a final defense witness.

Thomas 1. Osborne, assistant Cuyahoga County prosecutor, said he expected to have five rebuttal witnesses, but that their testimony would be brief.

Mrs. Fratantonio is accused of mistreating her two daughters—Bernadette, 3, and Venita, 6—by giving them sleep-inducing drugs that kept them in a virtual state of suspended animation for long periods.

Taking the stand Friday for the first time before the jury, she repeated previous claims that police twisted her answers in an alleged confession she gave detectives Aug. 13. Her statement was taken a few days after it was discovered that the mysterious comas her children suffered—baffling doctors—had been caused by barbiturate poisoning.

Mother Resumes Testimony About Drugged Children

CLEVELAND (AP)— Presentation of testimony in the second child neglect trial of Mrs. Lillian Fratantonio, mother of Cleveland's "sleeping beauties," may be concluded today.

Questioning of the 29-year-old mother was to resume as the trial in Juvenile Court entered its third week. Her husband, Vincent, a brewery company employe, was also expected to take the stand as a final defense witness.

Thomas 1. Osborne, assistant Cuyahoga County prosecutor, said he expected to have five rebuttal witnesses, but that their testimony would be brief.

Mrs. Fratantonio is accused of mistreating her two daughters—Bernadette, 3, and Venita, 6—by giving them sleep-inducing drugs that kept them in a virtual state of suspended animation for long periods.

Taking the stand Friday for the first time before the jury, she repeated previous claims that police twisted her answers in an alleged confession she gave detectives Aug. 13. Her statement was taken a few days after it was discovered that the mysterious comas her children suffered—baffling doctors—had been caused by barbiturate poisoning.

Zoo Director Taken

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Earle F. Davis, Columbus Zoo director the past 16 years, is dead at 55. Rushed to Grant Hospital Saturday night, he was dead on arrival. He had been suffering from cancer, but cause of death was not immediately known.

CHAPTER ONE

Once upon a time, in a little village by a faraway sea, there lived a boy named Michael McBurney. His father was a fisherman, but times were hard. There were many other fishermen in the village and not many buyers of fish could be found. Michael's mother mended nets to earn a few extra pennies and the family just managed to get along.

Michael did not mind being poor. His one great love was the sea and that was free. Every day he played in the water that lapped the village shores. He swam and rowed and skipped stones. He fished and searched for schells. All these things cost him nothing and he was very happy.

But he was happiest of all when he sat on the rocky cliffs above the village and stared across the sea, listening to secret sounds no one else could hear and seeing strange things no one else could see.

This may sound impossible but it was true nevertheles. Things often happened to Michael that no one, not even his mother, would ever believe. Yet, when people scoffed at his stories, there was always something they couldn't explain.

—:—

FOR INSTANCE, one stormy night, Michael was awakened from a deep sleep. He heard the wind racing around the eaves and the rain thrashing against the window panes. He snuggled deeper in the covers and was almost asleep again when suddenly he heard a cloppety-clop, cloppety - clop right over his head!

He sat up in bed and his mouth fell open as he strained to hear. There it was again - cloppety-clop, cloppety-clop - clear as could be.

Michael tore from his bed and raced to his parents' room.

"There's a horse! A horse on the roof!"

His father was angry at being awakened and his mother told Michael it was a dream and sent him back to bed. But the next morning he still insisted it had been so and when he went outside he found a horse shoe lying at the door.

Triumphantly he carried the shoe to his parents crying, "Look! I told you, I told you!"

Still his father scoffed. "It was probably thrown there by someone from the road. Forget it now — it's just another of your wild ideas." But there was a look of wonder in the old fisherman's eyes as he turned away from his son.

—:—

NO ONE had believed Michael either when he swore he had heard a fish playing a mouth harp in the sea and had seen a bird flying a kite that had been caught for three weeks in a tree.

Still people couldn't explain how a mouth harp had been found later on the beach nor why the kite that had been so long in the tree was no longer there.

Michael spent more and more time by himself on the beach. He longed to know what lay beneath the surface of the sea.

When he opened his eyes under water he could see nothing, yet he was sure that marvelous things were there if only he could swim deep enough and see clearly enough to find them.

Michael heard secret sounds from the sea.

Then one day a wonderful thing happened. When he went to his usual place on the cliff above the village he found a diving mask and a pair of rubber flippers lying on the rocks.

"Where did they come from?" wondered Michael. "Who in the village would be rich enough to own such things?"

Suddenly, snatching up his find, Michael rushed down to the shore. He slipped the flippers on his feet. He fitted the mask over his face. Then, his heart racing with excitement, he slipped into the water to find the wonderful kingdom he knew must be there.

Shawkey Quits Liquor Post In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — Liquor Commissioner Morris Shawkey has resigned to make way for the coming administration of Democratic Gov.-elect W. W. Barron.

Shawkey's resignation is not effective until Jan. 16, the day Barron will be inaugurated, but he wrote Gov. Underwood last week that "the door is ajar" should Barron desire that he serve beyond that date.

The commissioner promised Underwood that the Liquor Department would be in "a fine condition of solvency" when his successor takes office.

Shawkey, 56, is a former Sistersville newspaperman and member of the State Board of Probation and Parole. He was appointed by Underwood to the liquor post on March 17, 1959.

Recession Seen Preceding High Production Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—National production should reach record levels next year despite higher unemployment and a brief recession early in the year, a U.S. Chamber of Commerce economist predicts.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, the chamber's director of economic research, said the brief slowdown should bring a drop of 5 to 10 billion dollars in the annual production rate during the cutback.

Schmidt made his predictions Sunday to a chamber business outlook conference despite cautiously optimistic reports from the auto, steel, banking and building industries.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I got myself into a little jam and I don't know how to get out of it. Please help me.

My husband died several years ago and I was lonesome. I started to go with a nice man. I will call him Mike. Mike lived with his mother and he was very attached to her.

Last year when his mother died, he really took it hard. I felt sorry for him so I invited him to move into my home "temporarily."

He never has given me a dime to help out with the groceries or the rent. He tells me to keep beer in the icebox and plenty of cigars around. I cook for him, do his laundry and pay his cleaning bills. He never mentions marriage any more.

Yesterday he hit me with his lunch bucket because I fixed him cheese sandwiches three days in a row. I love Mike and I don't want to go on living this way. I want marriage but I'd hate to frighten him off. Please tell me what to do. —JAMMED UP.

-:-

Dear Jammed: Quit packing his lunch and pack his clothes. Mike never will marry you if you let him hang around and free-load. Why should he? He has room and board, a cook, maid, laundress, beer, cigars and companionship at no cost. If he's so delicate that the thought of marriage frightens him, you'd better find out now.

Second-Hand Rose

Dear Ann: I am a girl, 13, who tries to look nice at all times. I'm not clothes crazy or anything like that but I don't want to go around looking like a drip either.

My mother has a friend who keeps giving me clothes her granddaughter outgrew some time ago. Even though they are in pretty good condition they don't fit right. Anyone can see that these dresses once belonged to someone else.

I have enough clothes and I don't need any more but my mother says I will hurt this friend's feelings if I refuse to accept them. My father sort of sides with me. You could tip the balance. Please help me. — NOT UNGRATEFUL.

-:-

Dear Not: Your mother's friends's feelings are important —but so are yours. Suggest to your mother that she give the dresses to Goodwill Industries or a welfare agency that can make good use of them.

Lucky Girls

Dear Ann: Three of us working gals share a lovely apartment. Mary and I get along fine — but the third gal, Brenda, is a pill. She monopolizes the phone and does less than her share of cooking. When it's her turn to dust she drags the cloth over the table with one flick and calls it finished.

She does have good points, too. She's good-looking, has more dates than she can handle and is generous with the overflow.

Also she makes more money than we do and pays the phone and gas and electric bills. She knows a guy who is a butcher in a supermarket and he brings over choice steaks.

We'd like to get rid of her but maybe the next one would be worse. What is your opinion? — TOOZIES.

-:-

Dear Toozies: It sounds as if you two have a good thing going for you. "The Pill" you described is the kind of roommate most gals would adore. There are worse faults than not being able to dust properly. If you start looking for a replacement you'll find out what they are.

Confidentially

TO WARY: You have my solemn word that your letter will not be opened by the local newspaper. Mail addressed to me is sent to me SEALED.

-:-

TO HELP NEEDED BAD: For the sake of the children, leave this man at once.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Clerk Scares Thief

CINCINNATI (AP)—A would-be thief lost his nerve Sunday when a delicatessen clerk, Vivian Roberts, 33, told him "You don't scare me," and threw a soft drink bottle at him. The bottle hit him on the leg and he ran from the store, police reported.

Persons Under 50 Get First Disability Checks

First disability insurance benefit checks to persons under 50 were delivered Saturday, the Youngstown Regional Office of the Social Security Administration announced. The office covers Columbiana and Mahoning Counties.

Up to now, only those 50 or over, and their dependents, could qualify under the disability provisions. Under amendments to the social security law enacted in September, severely disabled workers under 65, with credit for 5 years of work under social security in the 10-year period before they became disabled, can now qualify. Benefits may also be payable to his dependents, just as if he were receiving social security retirement benefits.

Approximately 250,000 persons—disabled workers and their dependents — are eligible for benefits because of this change. Most have already applied, but some may still not be aware of their rights. If you feel you can qualify, and have not yet contacted your local social security office, do it now. The East Liverpool office is in the basement of the Post Office.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I got myself into a little jam and I don't know how to get out of it. Please help me.

My husband died several years ago and I was lonesome. I started to go with a nice man. I will call him Mike. Mike lived with his mother and he was very attached to her.

Last year when his mother died, he really took it hard. I felt sorry for him so I invited him to move into my home "temporarily."

He never has given me a dime to help out with the groceries or the rent. He tells me to keep beer in the icebox and plenty of cigars around. I cook for him, do his laundry and pay his cleaning bills. He never mentions marriage any more.

Yesterday he hit me with his lunch bucket because I fixed him cheese sandwiches three days in a row. I love Mike and I don't want to go on living this way. I want marriage but I'd hate to frighten him off. Please tell me what to do. —JAMMED UP.

-:-

Dear Jammed: Quit packing his lunch and pack his clothes. Mike never will marry you if you let him hang around and freeload. Why should he? He has room and board, a cook, maid, laundress, beer, cigars and companionship at no cost. If he's so delicate that the thought of marriage frightens him, you'd better find out now.

Second-Hand Rose

Dear Ann: I am a girl, 13, who tries to look nice at all times. I'm not clothes crazy or anything like that but I don't want to go around looking like a drip either.

My mother has a friend who keeps giving me clothes her granddaughter outgrew some time ago. Even though they are in pretty good condition they don't fit right. Anyone can see that these dresses once belonged to someone else.

I have enough clothes and I don't need any more but my mother says I will hurt this friend's feelings if I refuse to accept them. My father sort of sides with me. You could tip the balance. Please help me. — NOT UNGRATEFUL.

-:-

Dear Not: Your mother's friends's feelings are important —but so are yours. Suggest to your mother that she give the dresses to Goodwill Industries or a welfare agency that can make good use of them.

Lucky Girls

Dear Ann: Three of us working gals share a lovely apartment. Mary and I get along fine — but the third gal, Brenda, is a pill. She monopolizes the phone and does less than her share of cooking. When it's her turn to dust she drags the cloth over the table with one flick and calls it finished.

She does have good points, too. She's good-looking, has more dates than she can handle and is generous with the overflow.

Also she makes more money than we do and pays the phone and gas and electric bills. She knows a guy who is a butcher in a supermarket and he brings over choice steaks.

We'd like to get rid of her but maybe the next one would be worse. What is your opinion? — TOOZIES.

-:-

Dear Toozies: It sounds as if you two have a good thing going for you. "The Pill" you described is the kind of roommate most gals would adore. There are worse faults than not being able to dust properly. If you start looking for a replacement you'll find out what they are.

Confidentially

TO WARY: You have my solemn word that your letter will not be opened by the local newspaper. Mail addressed to me is sent to me SEALED.

-:-

TO HELP NEEDED BAD: For the sake of the children, leave this man at once.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Clerk Scares Thief

CINCINNATI (AP)—A would-be thief lost his nerve Sunday when a delicatessen clerk, Vivian Roberts, 33, told him "You don't scare me," and threw a soft drink bottle at him. The bottle hit him on the leg and he ran from the store, police reported.

Persons Under 50 Get First Disability Checks

First disability insurance benefit checks to persons under 50 were delivered Saturday, the Youngstown Regional Office of the Social Security Administration announced. The office covers Columbiana and Mahoning Counties.

Up to now, only those 50 or over, and their dependents, could qualify under the disability provisions. Under amendments to the social security law enacted in September, severely disabled workers under 65, with credit for 5 years of work under social security in the 10-year period before they became disabled, can now qualify. Benefits may also be payable to his dependents, just as if he were receiving social security retirement benefits.

Approximately 250,000 persons—disabled workers and their dependents — are eligible for benefits because of this change. Most have already applied, but some may still not be aware of their rights. If you feel you can qualify, and have not yet contacted your local social security office, do it now. The East Liverpool office is in the basement of the Post Office.

Hays Charges New Embassy Is Boondoggle

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, who represents Columbiana County in Congress, has termed the new U. S. Embassy building in London "a $60 million boondoggle."

Renewing long-standing criticism of the structure, he asserted that "the inside seems worse than the outside." A member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Hays visited the new embassy on Grosvenor Square during a European trip.

He is chairman of the NATO Parliamentarian's Conference which just ended its annual meeting in Paris.

"Even the British employes of the embassy make fun of it by calling it the 'morgue' or by referring to it as 'Ward 14'—a take-off on a popular television show," Hays said.

"As far as I'm concerned, I call it the $60 million boondoggle."

The embassy, which has caused considerable controversy in London, was just completed and occupied a few weeks ago. It is a modernistic structure occupying one side of London's most famous square and is surrounded by 16th and 17th century buildings of considerable tradition.

Hays first lambasted the building design when the State Department decided to spend $57,000 for a 54-foot bronze eagle which extends across the front of the structure. The building was designed by Eero Saarinen of Detroit.

Hays said a responsible embassy official told him it probably would cost about three times as much to maintain as an ordinary office building because of its design and decoration.

The elevators, for example, must be shut down about three times a day so maintenance men can clean the white rubber floors, Hays said.

If they didn't, the congressman added, "the elevators would look like pigpens."

Although the building has been occupied less than two months, he added, temporary partitions already have been erected in the lobby and offices installed.

A 60-foot-long fountain and pool in the lobby can't be used, Hays said, because when the water is turned on, it sprays on the floor and runs out the front door.

Reappraisal Finished For Real Estate Of City

Reappraisal of East Liverpool real estate, part of a countywide program, has been completed, Adin Kauffman of Columbiana, who is directing the work, announced today at Lisbon.

Work will be completed in Wellsville this week, Kauffman said. The survey is 75 per cent complete in Yellow Creek Township. When it is finished, the crews will move to Columbiana.

Appraisers also are working in the LaCroft area and the Liverpool Township area. Weather permitting outside reappraisal work will be completed throughout the county by February, Kauffman said.

Wellsville Choir Sings For Sorority Meeting

The Lyric Choir of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church of Wellsville, directed by Mrs. Louise Brookman Taylor, presented a program for a luncheon meeting of the Alpha Iota Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority Saturday at the Country Club.

Mrs. Helen Welch, president of the Columbiana County National Teachers Sorority, conducted business. Miss Gladys DeBolt and Miss Mildred McGregor were in charge of arrangements.

The next meeting will be in April.

Absolute zero, the limit beyond which nothing can be colder, is 459 degrees Fahrenheit or 273 degrees Centigrade.

Repairs To Dixonville Water Line Completed

Repairs were completed Sunday on a 6-inch water main on Anderson Blvd. following a break in the line Saturday night.

Some 100 families in Dixonville were without water for about 2½ hours while repairs were made by a water department crew, Donald Duke, acting superintendent, said.

The break in the line occurred near the road leading to the municipal swimming pool, Duke said.

Man Fined And Jailed

SUMMITVILLE — Joseph C. Evanosky, 22, of Berlioz R. D. 1 was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 3 days in jail at a hearing Sunday before Mayor Ernest Phillips for driving while intoxicated. He was cited at 3 a.m. by Forrest Young, deputy marshal. Archie C. Johnson of Wellsville posted a $10 bond for appearance tonight before Mayor Phillips for speeding.

Eagles Rap Cards, 20-6, To Clinch Eastern Title In NFL

Lions Nip Colts, 20-15, On Game's Final Play In Thrilling Finish

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Football League championship game will match Philadelphia's streaking Eagles against Baltimore or Green Bay or San Francisco or Chicago or Detroit.

That was the situation today, with only two weeks left in the regular season.

The Eagles clinched their first Eastern Conference title since 1949 by whipping the St. Louis Cardinals 20-6 Sunday for their ninth consecutive triumph.

The Baltimore Colts, seeking to gain a playoff berth for an unprecedented third consecutive time, were beaten by the Detroit Lions 20-15 when Earl Morral connected with Jim Gibbons for a 65-yard touchdown pass on the last play of the game.

The loss dropped Baltimore into a three-way tie for first place in the Western Division with Green Bay and San Francisco, all with 6-4 records, while Chicago (5-4-1) and Detroit (5-5) remained solidly in contention.

The Packers, getting a 23-point performance from Paul Hornung that gave him 152 for the campaign and broke Don Hutson's 18-year-old one-season scoring record, walloped the Bears 41-13. The 49ers moved into position by blasting Los Angeles 23-7 before a crowd of 77,254.

The Cleveland Browns grabbed the runner-up spot in the East with a 27-16 victory over Washington while winless Dallas tied the New York Giants 31-31.

Norm Van Brocklin passed for two touchdowns and Bobby Walston kicked a pair of field goals for the Eagles (9-1). Van Brocklin hit Pete Retzlaff with a 22-yarder, then pitched a 25-yarder to Tom McDonald after the Cards (5-5-1) had scored on Mal Hammack's two-yard plunge in the third period.

The Colts scored what appeared to be the winning touchdown with 14 seconds left when Johnny Unitas, who had previously unleashed an 80-yard TD heave to Lenny Moore, fired a 34-yard scoring aerial to the fleet halfback for a 15-13 lead. But Morrall, on the bench for the first three periods, completed a 17-point fourth-quarter surge for Detroit by whipping the clincher to Gibbons following the kickoff.

Hornung carried the Packers to their overwhelming triumph against the Bears by scoring twice on a 10-yard run and a 17-yard pass from Barf Starr, kicking two field goals and five conversions while eclipsing the NFL scoring record set by Green Bay's Hutson in 1942. Chicago's touchdowns came on a 19-yard Ed Brown to Willie Dewveall pass and a 20-yard pass from Zeke Bratkowski to Jim Dooley.

The 49ers, using the double wing offense that proved effective in last week's triumph over Baltimore, built a commanding 10-0 halftime lead over Los Angeles (3-6-1) on a 10-yard scoring jaunt by C. R. Roberts and the first of three field goals by Tommy Davis. A 65-yard TD strike from John Brodie to Clyde Conner rounded out San Francisco's scoring before the Rams rallied on Frank Ryan's two-yard sneak.

Milt Plum had his first pass intercepted on his 196th aerial this season, but his three touchdown flips brought the Browns (6-3-1) from behind twice against the cellar-dwelling Redskins (1-7-2).

Eddie LeBaron's nine yard touchdown toss to Bill Howton in the final period gave the Cowboys their tie with the Giants (5-3-2) after L. G. Dupre scored three TDs, two on LeBaron passes, to keep Dallas within range.

Houston, Los Angeles Near Clinching Titles

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Houston Oilers and Los Angeles Chargers of the American Football League are within one game of clinching the Eastern and Western division titles today. Houston missed a chance to wrap up the Eastern championship Sunday, when the Dallas Texans pulled a 24-0 upset.

With two games remaining, Houston and Los Angeles have won eight and lost four games and can get no worse than a tie for the championship. Los Angeles came from behind with four touchdowns Sunday to subdue the Oakland Raiders 41-17.

New York, holding second place in the Eastern division, boasted a 6-6 record after the Titans edged the Denver Broncos 30-27. Dallas has a similar 6-6 won and lost record.

Playoff plans will be completed during the AFL meeting opening today at Dallas. The playoff will be during Christmas week.

In a fourth game Sunday, the Buffalo Bills broke a 14-14 halftime deadlock and went on to trim the Boston Patriots 38-14.

Dallas Coach Hank Stram had threatened $500 fines for poor play, and the Texans poured it on Houston for the Oilers' worst defeat of the season.

Second-string quarterback Hunter Enis, subbing for Cotton Davidson, scored the first two touchdowns on one-yard bursts, and Abner Haynes ran 13 yards for the other Dallas touchdown. Jack Spikes kicked a 22-yard field goal.

Oakland was leading Los Angeles 17-14 after three quarters, but the Chargers rushed across four touchdowns in the fourth period. Jack Kemp threw three touchdown passes, and scored two more on short runs in the fourth-period outburst. The scoring pass that put Los Angeles ahead was a 49-yard play from Kemp to Paul Lowe.

Al Dorow, New York quarterback, threw three touchdown passes to Art Powell, but Bill Shockley's 15-yard field goal in the fourth period spelled the difference. New York led 21-0 before Gene Mingo scored for Denver.

With 13½ minutes to go, New York led 30-14, but Denver's Frank Tripucka wasn't through. The Broncos traveled 67 yards with Mingo taking an 11-yard pass from Tripucka. Then Skip Doyle intercepted a Dorow pass, and Tripucka passed seven yards to Lionel Taylor for the final TD.

Two fumbles and an intercepted pass ruined Boston's chances. Richie Lucas, former Penn State star, scored a touchdown and passed 30 yards to Dan Chamberlain for another during Buffalo's second-half spurt.

Denver plays at Los Angeles Saturday, and on Sunday it will be Buffalo at Houston, New York at Oakland and Boston at Dallas.

Bell, Noland Pace Attack

The Vikings of Newell High School turned to the practice court today and began preparing for their "must" game with rival New Cumberland next Friday night after picking up an easy 78-60 win at Augusta Saturday night.

Newell had little trouble moving to a 24-11 lead at the end of the first period, then continued as front runners with a 41-24 margin at halftime.

Tom Bell, a jump shot specialist, paced the balanced attack which saw four of Coach John Robison's cagers hit in the double figures.

Bell's 8 field goals and 4 of 9 fouls were good for 20 points, while backcourt ace Ron Noland added 18. Mick Staley had 15 points for his efforts while veteran Larry Hutton pushed in 14.

While the victory was also the opener for Newell, Augusta dropped its fourth straight contest.

DeVault's 20 points topped the losers while Crawford added 17.

Robison has put a veteran club on the hardwood this season and is expecting one of his top records in recent years.

The acid test will come Friday night at New Cumberland, where Coach John Kuzfo in his first season is somewhat in the same position as Robison with experienced players on hand.

In Saturday's reserve game, another Bell was mostly responsible for the Newell jayvees scoring a 42-26 win over Augusta.

Dave Bell, a sophomore, and brother of Tom, tallied 24 points.

Eagles Rap Cards, 20-6, To Clinch Eastern Title In NFL

Lions Nip Colts, 20-15, On Game's Final Play In Thrilling Finish

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Football League championship game will match Philadelphia's streaking Eagles against Baltimore or Green Bay or San Francisco or Chicago or Detroit.

That was the situation today, with only two weeks left in the regular season.

The Eagles clinched their first Eastern Conference title since 1949 by whipping the St. Louis Cardinals 20-6 Sunday for their ninth consecutive triumph.

The Baltimore Colts, seeking to gain a playoff berth for an unprecedented third consecutive time, were beaten by the Detroit Lions 20-15 when Earl Morral connected with Jim Gibbons for a 65-yard touchdown pass on the last play of the game.

The loss dropped Baltimore into a three-way tie for first place in the Western Division with Green Bay and San Francisco, all with 6-4 records, while Chicago (5-4-1) and Detroit (5-5) remained solidly in contention.

The Packers, getting a 23-point performance from Paul Hornung that gave him 152 for the campaign and broke Don Hutson's 18-year-old one-season scoring record, walloped the Bears 41-13. The 49ers moved into position by blasting Los Angeles 23-7 before a crowd of 77,254.

The Cleveland Browns grabbed the runner-up spot in the East with a 27-16 victory over Washington while winless Dallas tied the New York Giants 31-31.

Norm Van Brocklin passed for two touchdowns and Bobby Walston kicked a pair of field goals for the Eagles (9-1). Van Brocklin hit Pete Retzlaff with a 22-yarder, then pitched a 25-yarder to Tom McDonald after the Cards (5-5-1) had scored on Mal Hammack's two-yard plunge in the third period.

The Colts scored what appeared to be the winning touchdown with 14 seconds left when Johnny Unitas, who had previously unleashed an 80-yard TD heave to Lenny Moore, fired a 34-yard scoring aerial to the fleet halfback for a 15-13 lead. But Morrall, on the bench for the first three periods, completed a 17-point fourth-quarter surge for Detroit by whipping the clincher to Gibbons following the kickoff.

Hornung carried the Packers to their overwhelming triumph against the Bears by scoring twice on a 10-yard run and a 17-yard pass from Barf Starr, kicking two field goals and five conversions while eclipsing the NFL scoring record set by Green Bay's Hutson in 1942. Chicago's touchdowns came on a 19-yard Ed Brown to Willie Dewveall pass and a 20-yard pass from Zeke Bratkowski to Jim Dooley.

The 49ers, using the double wing offense that proved effective in last week's triumph over Baltimore, built a commanding 10-0 halftime lead over Los Angeles (3-6-1) on a 10-yard scoring jaunt by C. R. Roberts and the first of three field goals by Tommy Davis. A 65-yard TD strike from John Brodie to Clyde Conner rounded out San Francisco's scoring before the Rams rallied on Frank Ryan's two-yard sneak.

Milt Plum had his first pass intercepted on his 196th aerial this season, but his three touchdown flips brought the Browns (6-3-1) from behind twice against the cellar-dwelling Redskins (1-7-2).

Eddie LeBaron's nine yard touchdown toss to Bill Howton in the final period gave the Cowboys their tie with the Giants (5-3-2) after L. G. Dupre scored three TDs, two on LeBaron passes, to keep Dallas within range.

Houston, Los Angeles Near Clinching Titles

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Houston Oilers and Los Angeles Chargers of the American Football League are within one game of clinching the Eastern and Western division titles today. Houston missed a chance to wrap up the Eastern championship Sunday, when the Dallas Texans pulled a 24-0 upset.

With two games remaining, Houston and Los Angeles have won eight and lost four games and can get no worse than a tie for the championship. Los Angeles came from behind with four touchdowns Sunday to subdue the Oakland Raiders 41-17.

New York, holding second place in the Eastern division, boasted a 6-6 record after the Titans edged the Denver Broncos 30-27. Dallas has a similar 6-6 won and lost record.

Playoff plans will be completed during the AFL meeting opening today at Dallas. The playoff will be during Christmas week.

In a fourth game Sunday, the Buffalo Bills broke a 14-14 halftime deadlock and went on to trim the Boston Patriots 38-14.

Dallas Coach Hank Stram had threatened $500 fines for poor play, and the Texans poured it on Houston for the Oilers' worst defeat of the season.

Second-string quarterback Hunter Enis, subbing for Cotton Davidson, scored the first two touchdowns on one-yard bursts, and Abner Haynes ran 13 yards for the other Dallas touchdown. Jack Spikes kicked a 22-yard field goal.

Oakland was leading Los Angeles 17-14 after three quarters, but the Chargers rushed across four touchdowns in the fourth period. Jack Kemp threw three touchdown passes, and scored two more on short runs in the fourth-period outburst. The scoring pass that put Los Angeles ahead was a 49-yard play from Kemp to Paul Lowe.

Al Dorow, New York quarterback, threw three touchdown passes to Art Powell, but Bill Shockley's 15-yard field goal in the fourth period spelled the difference. New York led 21-0 before Gene Mingo scored for Denver.

With 13½ minutes to go, New York led 30-14, but Denver's Frank Tripucka wasn't through. The Broncos traveled 67 yards with Mingo taking an 11-yard pass from Tripucka. Then Skip Doyle intercepted a Dorow pass, and Tripucka passed seven yards to Lionel Taylor for the final TD.

Two fumbles and an intercepted pass ruined Boston's chances. Richie Lucas, former Penn State star, scored a touchdown and passed 30 yards to Dan Chamberlain for another during Buffalo's second-half spurt.

Denver plays at Los Angeles Saturday, and on Sunday it will be Buffalo at Houston, New York at Oakland and Boston at Dallas.

Newell Opens With 78-60 Win

Bell, Noland Pace Attack

The Vikings of Newell High School turned to the practice court today and began preparing for their "must" game with rival New Cumberland next Friday night after picking up an easy 78-60 win at Augusta Saturday night.

Newell had little trouble moving to a 24-11 lead at the end of the first period, then continued as front runners with a 41-24 margin at halftime.

Tom Bell, a jump shot specialist, paced the balanced attack which saw four of Coach John Robison's cagers hit in the double figures.

Bell's 8 field goals and 4 of 9 fouls were good for 20 points, while backcourt ace Ron Noland added 18. Mick Staley had 15 points for his efforts while veteran Larry Hutton pushed in 14.

While the victory was also the opener for Newell, Augusta dropped its fourth straight contest.

DeVault's 20 points topped the losers while Crawford added 17.

Robison has put a veteran club on the hardwood this season and is expecting one of his top records in recent years.

The acid test will come Friday night at New Cumberland, where Coach John Kuzlo in his first season is somewhat in the same position as Robison with experienced players on hand.

In Saturday's reserve game, another Bell was mostly responsible for the Newell jayvees scoring a 42-26 win over Augusta.

Dave Bell, a sophomore, and brother of Tom, tallied 24 points.

Stanton Local Lists Height, Experience To Be 'A' Power

Spires Is 6-6; First Test Set Tuesday Night

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

With the tallest team in years to recommend it as a potential Class A power, Stanton Local of Irondale figures to pick up right where it left off last season when it compiled a sparkling 16-5 record.

The Irons swing into the 1960-61 season Tuesday night at Wayne under new Coach Harry Diehl, youthful graduate of West Virginia University, who's counting on a highly-successful campaign.

Diel has particular reason for optimism.

Back in the fold after a standout year as a sophomore is Don (Wilt) Spires, lean, 6-foot, 6-inch pivot performer, who is developing into one of the best inside threats in Jefferson County.

Spires, the tallest cager at Irondale since Clarence (Bevo) Francis came out as a freshman and later turned up in Wellsville, may make a strong assault on the scoring records this year if past performances are any indication.

In addition, another standout from last season — big Bob Mills, 6-2 — returns to varsity action with valuable experience gained as a sophomore.

The lineup against Wayne probably will include three other lettermen — John Lutton, 6-foot senior and good outside shooter, James Leedy, 6-2, junior, who adds height to an already rangy front court, and Curt Rose, 6-1, junior.

The Irons' roster lists more height in Marlon McCuen, 6-1 sophomore, and Ernest Leedy, 6-foot senior. Up from the reserves are Charles Allen, 5-10 junoir, Bob Perkins, 5-10 junior, and Stanley Wickman, 5-8, also a junior.

The Irons will be strictly a "running ball team", Diehl pointed out, in mentioning his dislike for control tactics and stalling.

Speed will be fair, Diehl ventured, and the Irons will rely on a fast-break attack.

Diehl figures Spires will work nicely in the fast-break, as the big junior appears to move fairly well.

An excellent rebounder last season, "Wilt" sharpened his shooting eye this summer during off-duty moments from his job as a vendor at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh. Spires ripped in 22 points and garnered 19 rebounds in a scrimmage game with Wellsville, Diehl mentioned proudly.

The Irons won consolation honors in the county tournament last season. Diehl would like nothing better than to sweep the county A title this season and may have the power to pull the feat in his first coaching assignment. The Irons haven't won the tourney since 1937.

Diehl said he has been stressing defense in recent drills and added the Irons will use a zone this year.

Gone from the 1959 squad are regulars Bill Chetock, Lon Fraley, Pete Allen, and Pisarsky, a first line substitute.

The Irons new mentor, who succeeded Les Douglas, attended West Virginia University on a track scholarship and was graduated in 1956. He spent four years in the Air Force as a jet pilot. Diehl is a native of Mt. Morris, Pa., and was an all-WPIAL selection in basketball and football. He is married and has two sons.

Assistant Coach Fred Sims is guiding the Irondale reserve squad.

The schedule follows:

Columbus Firm Wins Large Radar Contract

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Columbus division of North American Aviation, Inc., has received a $1,844,000 contract from the Air Force to build "Operation Haystack," a new type of low-cost radar antenna so precise it will be tuned like a piano to perfect pitch.

The antenna, to be erected at Tyngsboro, Mass., has a design comparable to a bicycle wheel in which tension rods, instead of heavy structural members, will connect five concentric rings forming the back-up structure for the face of the reflector. These rods will be drawn to proper tension by turnbuckles and the tension measured by tone or pitch through sonic testing.

Royals Suffer 6th Straight Defeat In NBA

By The Associated Press

The erratic Cincinnati Royals are having their troubles winning in the National Basketball Association after getting off to a whirlwind start.

The Royals bowed to the Detroit Pistons 116-115 Sunday night for their sixth straight defeat. Cincinnati began the season with four victories in a row, but since then the Royals have won only five games in 22 outings for an over-all 9-17 record.

In the night's other game, the Boston Celtics snapped a two-game losing streak by whipping the Los Angeles Lakers 113-103.

On Saturday night the St. Louis Hawks, the Western Division leaders, turned back the Philadelphia Warriors 131-127. Bob Pettit led the Hawks with 37 points while Wilt Chamberlain was high for the Warriors with 35. The Syracuse Nats defeated the New York Knicks 130-113 Saturday afternoon in a nationally televised game.

Detroit overcame a 62-50 halftime deficit to push Cincinnati deeper into last place in the Western Division. The third-place Pistons are two games ahead of the Royals and only 1½ games behind Los Angeles, in second place.

Bailey Howell supplied most of the scoring impetus in Detroit's late surge, collecting 17 of his 31 points in the final period. The Pistons pulled ahead 108-106 on a basket by Jackie Moreland and staved off Cincinnati in the waning minutes.

The game was played in Indianapolis, Oscar Robertson's home town. A turnout of 3,052 saw Robertson top the Royals' scorers with 34 points.

Boston also had to rally in the second half after Los Angeles had moved to a 52-47 margin at the intermission. The Celtics' ballhawking and rebounding tactics in the last two periods upset Los Angeles' composure.

The defending champion Celts boosted their Eastern Division lead over Philadelphia to one full game. Tommy Heinshon paved the way with 34 points but the Lakers' Elgin Baylor garnered scoring laurels with 40 points.

Massillon Coach Eyes Grid Post At Cincinnati

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)— Leo Strang, whose Massillon High School Bengals have won the state scholastic football championship the last two years, is seeking the job as head coach at the University of Cincinnati. He said Sunday that he sent in his application Friday.

Strang has been prominently mentioned for the Queen City job since Coach George Blackburn announced his resignation. In his three years here, Strang's teams have won 28 games, lost two and tied one.

Mid-American Rejects Runner-Up Bid In NIT

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Mid-American Conference faculty council has turned down, for a second time, a request by the loop's cage coaches that the runnerup in the MAC title race be permitted to take part in the National Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The faculty council, meeting here Sunday, also defeated a proposal by MAC tennis coaches to have the conference net title decided by dual meet standings instead of by the championship tournament in May.

Trotting Assn. Eyes Schools For Officials

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—U. S. Trotting Association directors have voted to establish training schools for track judges and other harness racing officials on a nationwide basis.

Directors, ending a four-day meeting here Sunday, appointed Richard P. Conley of Kokomo, Ind., to head the new department of officiating. Conley, a USTA field representative since 1947, will handle the training and licensing and try to encourage qualified men into this type of employment.

Directors also approved:

A central identification bureau for horsemen and stepped-up security regulations.

Authorization of funds for additional research into prerace testing of horses.

A 1961 USTA budget of $785,540, including allotments for the development of a special gear box to insure uniform acceleration of cars on which starting gates are mounted.

Harness purses in 1960 reached an all-time high of $31,581,922, USTA president Walter J. Michael of Bucyrus, Ohio, reported. He said 17,702 trotters and pacers started at least once during the year. And he boasted of a record USTA membership of 15,593.

Purdue, Utah Upset

Several Of Nation's Cage Powers Fall In 1st Round

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

One or two games don't make a college basketball season but as far as some of the favorites are concerned, the first weekend was far from encouraging.

Take Utah, one of the top choices to win the Skyline Conference title and wind up in the NCAA's postseason playoffs. The Utes have lost their first two games, and so have Purdue's supposedly talent-laden Boilermakers.

Also wearing the look of surprise today are Kentucky (1-1), NYU (1-1), Wake Forest (1-1) and Villanova all of whom lost Saturday night after winning openers earlier last week.

But still unshaken are Ohio State, the defending NCAA champ, and 1959 NIT winner Bradley. The Buckeyes play St. Louis tonight and face Army on Saturday. Bradley, idle last Saturday night along with Ohio State, plays the Cal Aggies and tough little Butler this week.

Purdue found out it can't depend entirely on big man Terry Dischinger, losing to Penn State 63-59 Saturday night after being belted Friday by Pitt.

Indiana, Big Ten co-favorite with Ohio State, has a 1-0 mark after an 80-53 victory over Indiana State. Things toughen quickly, though, for tonight the Hoosiers face Kansas State, then play Detroit Saturday. Kansas State, with games Friday and Saturday night in Los Angeles against UCLA and Southern Cal, respectively, had to fight before subduing Texas A&M 69-64.

Kansas plays St. John's in part of a doubleheader Friday night in New York's Madison Square Garden. The Redmen beat Army 69-49 Saturday. The Jayhawks also meet Texas Tech tonight after an opening 86-69 victory over Northwestern.

In the other half of that New York twinbill, Cincinnati, with a 2-0 mark, plays Seton Hall, listed as a sleeper among the East's independents. The Bearcats, now minus All America Oscar Robertson, face Miami (Ohio) Tuesday night.

Auburn (2-0) has a right to be cautious when it faces Florida State Saturday night. Florida State dumped Kentucky on its own floor, 63-58 Saturday night. Auburn has victories over two easy warmup foes.

West Virginia, misssing its great Jerry West, won its 44th consecutive home game, 74-72 over William & Mary in the last half-minute of overtime and plays The Citadel Tuesday, Wake Forest Friday and Duke on Saturday.

Wake Forest lost to little Davidson 65-59 after an opening game victory and also must play Penn State Saturday night.

Utah State showed it may be ready to take over for Utah in the Skyline after beating NYU in the final six seconds 67-65. But Utah State has three more games on the road, meeting Detroit tonight, Nebraska Wednesday and South Dakota State Friday.

Utah's dreams of grandeur really went crashing Saturday night in a 59-56 loss to Stanford after being upset last Thursday by Loyola of Los Angeles. Villanova, after a victory, came back to earth when Buffalo pulled a 63-62 upset.

Texas, the Southwest Conference champ, has a 77-54 victory over Howard Payne, and now must play Trinity (Tex.), Oklahoma City and Tulane this week.

Also opening this week is North Carolina, a favorite for the Atlantic Coast crown and Virginia Tech, figured to give West Virginia a tussle for the Southern Conference title.

Elsewhere on Saturday night, Georgia Tech, the Southeastern Conference favorite, walloped Furman 80-54. California made it 23 in a row at home, beating Santa Barbara 60-54, Duke beat LSU 80-74, St. Bonaventure won its second, whipping Murray State 92-39, Dayton beat LaMar Tech 73-51, Arkansas smacked Missouri 84-75, Oklahoma won over Minnesota 60-56, Washington whipped Brigham Young 74-54, North Carolina State conquered George Washington 88-68, and Kent State won the Midwestern Invitational title, beating Clemson 79-65.

O'Malley Presents Big 'If' For American Loop

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The American League has been given the green light to go to Los Angeles next year—if.

The big if is that the league's 10th club must play its home games in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena.

That is the stipulation Dodger owner Walter O'Malley and National League President Warren Giles gave to a committee to present to the American League at today's meeting.

A counter proposal that would allow the new Los Angeles club to play its home games either in the Coliseum or in Wrigley Field was rejected by O'Malley.

A committee of club representatives met in the commissioner's suite late Sunday night in an 11th-hour attempt to reconcile differences between the two leagues and pave the way for the American League's expansion to 10 clubs in 1961. Giles and Joe Cronin, president of the American League attended the special conference.

Cronin and Giles appeared optimistic.

"I'm confident that something will be worked out," said Giles. "It may not make everybody happy, but it won't be a fight."

The Rose Bowl is a football stadium that seats 100,000. It is about 15 miles from Chavez Ravine, where O'Malley is building a stadium for his Dodgers. The park is expected to be completed sometime in 1962. The Dodgers now use the Coliseum.

The American League is not completely happy with O'Malley's compromise proposal. Some owners feel the Rose Bowl is not suitable for major league baseball.

Four groups are bidding for the franchise. The successful one will be a group that includes Gene Autry and Bobby Reynolds, former Stanford tackle. Kenyon Brown, Los Angeles TV executive who formerly headed the group, will play a major role in the new operation.

The American League has asked O'Malley to meet with Autry and Reynolds today. The Dodger owner indicated he would.

Ohio U. Star Receives North-South Game Bid

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Guard Joe Dean, co-captain on the Ohio University football squad who was named today to the All-Mid-American Conference first team, says he has been invited to play for the North in the annual North-South game at Mobile, Ala., Jan. 7.

Dean, chosen most valuable player on the Nov. 1 small college team in the nation, previously had received an invitation to play with the small college all-stars against the major college all-stars in the All-American Bowl at Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 26.

Stanton Local Lists Height, Experience To Be 'A' Power

Spires Is 6-6; First Test Set Tuesday Night

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

With the tallest team in years to recommend it as a potential Class A power, Stanton Local of Irondale figures to pick up right where it left off last season when it compiled a sparkling 16-5 record.

The Irons swing into the 1960-61 season Tuesday night at Wayne under new Coach Harry Diehl, youthful graduate of West Virginia University, who's counting on a highly-successful campaign.

Diel has particular reason for optimism.

Back in the fold after a standout year as a sophomore is Don (Wilt) Spires, lean, 6-foot, 6-inch pivot performer, who is developing into one of the best inside threats in Jefferson County.

Spires, the tallest cager at Irondale since Clarence (Bevo) Francis came out as a freshman and later turned up in Wellsville, may make a strong assault on the scoring records this year if past performances are any indication.

In addition, another standout from last season — big Bob Mills, 6-2 — returns to varsity action with valuable experience gained as a sophomore.

The lineup against Wayne probably will include three other lettermen — John Lutton, 6-foot senior and good outside shooter, James Leedy, 6-2, junior, who adds height to an already rangy front court, and Curt Rose, 6-1, junior.

The Irons' roster lists more height in Marlon McCuen, 6-1 sophomore, and Ernest Leedy, 6-foot senior. Up from the reserves are Charles Allen, 5-10 junoir, Bob Perkins, 5-10 junior, and Stanley Wickman, 5-8, also a junior.

The Irons will be strictly a "running ball team", Diehl pointed out, in mentioning his dislike for control tactics and stalling.

Speed will be fair, Diehl ventured, and the Irons will rely on a fast-break attack.

Diehl figures Spires will work nicely in the fast-break, as the big junior appears to move fairly well.

An excellent rebounder last season, "Wilt" sharpened his shooting eye this summer during off-duty moments from his job as a vendor at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh. Spires ripped in 22 points and garnered 19 rebounds in a scrimmage game with Wellsville, Diehl mentioned proudly.

The Irons won consolation honors in the county tournament last season. Diehl would like nothing better than to sweep the county A title this season and may have the power to pull the feat in his first coaching assignment. The Irons haven't won the tourney since 1937.

Diehl said he has been stressing defense in recent drills and added the Irons will use a zone this year.

Gone from the 1959 squad are regulars Bill Chetock, Lon Fraley, Pete Allen, and Pisarsky, a first line substitute.

The Irons new mentor, who succeeded Les Douglas, attended West Virginia University on a track scholarship and was graduated in 1956. He spent four years in the Air Force as a jet pilot. Diehl is a native of Mt. Morris, Pa., and was an all-WPIAL selection in basketball and football. He is married and has two sons.

Assistant Coach Fred Sims is guiding the Irondale reserve squad.

The schedule follows:

Dec.	6 Wayne	away
Dec.	9 Salineville	home
Dec.	13 Springfield	home
Dec.	16 Brilliant	home
Dec.	20 Wintersville	away
Dec.	30 Brilliant	away

Columbus Firm Wins Large Radar Contract

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Columbus division of North American Aviation, Inc., has received a $1,844,000 contract from the Air Force to build "Operation Haystack," a new type of low-cost radar antenna so precise it will be tuned like a piano to perfect pitch.

The antenna, to be erected at Tyngsboro, Mass., has a design comparable to a bicycle wheel in which tension rods, instead of heavy structural members, will connect five concentric rings forming the back-up structure for the face of the reflector. These rods will be drawn to proper tension by turnbuckles and the tension measured by tone or pitch through sonic testing.

Royals Suffer 6th Straight Defeat In NBA

By The Associated Press

The erratic Cincinnati Royals are having their troubles winning in the National Basketball Association after getting off to a whirlwind start.

The Royals bowed to the Detroit Pistons 116-115 Sunday night for their sixth straight defeat. Cincinnati began the season with four victories in a row, but since then the Royals have won only five games in 22 outings for an over-all 9-17 record.

In the night's other game, the Boston Celtics snapped a two-game losing streak by whipping the Los Angeles Lakers 113-103.

On Saturday night the St. Louis Hawks, the Western Division leaders, turned back the Philadelphia Warriors 131-127. Bob Pettit led the Hawks with 37 points while Wilt Chamberlain was high for the Warriors with 35. The Syracuse Nats defeated the New York Knicks 130-113 Saturday afternoon in a nationally televised game.

Detroit overcame a 62-50 halftime deficit to push Cincinnati deeper into last place in the Western Division. The third-place Pistons are two games ahead of the Royals and only 1½ games behind Los Angeles, in second place.

Bailey Howell supplied most of the scoring impetus in Detroit's late surge, collecting 17 of his 31 points in the final period. The Pistons pulled ahead 108-106 on a basket by Jackie Moreland and staved off Cincinnati in the waning minutes.

The game was played in Indianapolis, Oscar Robertson's home town. A turnout of 3,052 saw Robertson top the Royals' scorers with 34 points.

Boston also had to rally in the second half after Los Angeles had moved to a 52-47 margin at the intermission. The Celtics' ballhawking and rebounding tactics in the last two periods upset Los Angeles' composure.

The defending champion Celts boosted their Eastern Division lead over Philadelphia to one full game. Tommy Heinshon paved the way with 34 points but the Lakers' Elgin Baylor garnered scoring laurels with 40 points.

Massillon Coach Eyes Grid Post At Cincinnati

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)— Leo Strang, whose Massillon High School Bengals have won the state scholastic football championship the last two years, is seeking the job as head coach at the University of Cincinnati. He said Sunday that he sent in his application Friday.

Strang has been prominently mentioned for the Queen City job since Coach George Blackburn announced his resignation. In his three years here, Strang's teams have won 28 games, lost two and tied one.

Mid-American Rejects Runner-Up Bid In NIT

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Mid-American Conference faculty council has turned down, for a second time, a request by the loop's cage coaches that the runnerup in the MAC title race be permitted to take part in the National Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The faculty council, meeting here Sunday, also defeated a proposal by MAC tennis coaches to have the conference net title decided by dual meet standings instead of by the championship tournament in May.

O'Malley Presents Big 'If' For American Loop

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The American League has been given the green light to go to Los Angeles next year—if.

The big if is that the league's 10th club must play its home games in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena.

That is the stipulation Dodger owner Walter O'Malley and National League President Warren Giles gave to a committee to present to the American League at today's meeting.

A counter proposal that would allow the new Los Angeles club to play its home games either in the Coliseum or in Wrigley Field was rejected by O'Malley.

A committee of club representatives met in the commissioner's suite late Sunday night in an 11th-hour attempt to reconcile differences between the two leagues and pave the way for the American League's expansion to 10 clubs in 1961. Giles and Joe Cronin, president of the American League attended the special conference.

Cronin and Giles appeared optimistic.

"I'm confident that something will be worked out," said Giles. "It may not make everybody happy, but it won't be a fight."

The Rose Bowl is a football stadium that seats 100,000. It is about 15 miles from Chavez Ravine, where O'Malley is building a stadium for his Dodgers. The park is expected to be completed sometime in 1962. The Dodgers now use the Coliseum.

The American League is not completely happy with O'Malley's compromise proposal. Some owners feel the Rose Bowl is not suitable for major league baseball.

Four groups are bidding for the franchise. The successful one will be a group that includes Gene Autry and Bobby Reynolds, former Stanford tackle. Kenyon Brown, Los Angeles TV executive who formerly headed the group, will play a major role in the new operation.

The American League has asked O'Malley to meet with Autry and Reynolds today. The Dodger owner indicated he would.

Dean, chosen most valuable player on the Nov. 1 small college team in the nation, previously had received an invitation to play with the small college all-stars against the major college all-stars in the All-American Bowl at Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 26.

Presbyterians Receive Report

Landscaping Expert Inspects Camp

A report on a meeting held Friday afternoon at the Beaver Creek United Presbyterian camp at Grimms Bridge with Brade Sears of Syracuse, N. Y., a landscape architect, featured the meeting of the planning committee of the camp Saturday afternoon at the Salem United Presbyterian Camp.

The architect went over the grounds with the development committee and the executive committee of the Board of Trustees.

Sears is an expert at planning and assisting in development of camps and has helped many Presbyterian and Methodist camps and government state parks. Topography maps were studied in the survey.

The Rev. Mark Allen of Toronto, chairman of the development committee, and Stanley Rose of East Liverpool, co-chairman, were in charge of the meeting. The Rev. Gene Toot of Hopedale led prayer.

ON FRIDAY NIGHT, the group, along with Sears, met in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church here to go over the maps and discuss in detail future plans for the camp.

Those who attended included Dr. Stanley Kreidler of Columbus, director of christian education; Rev. Allen, Rose, Marion Horger of East Liverpool, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Baxter, also of East Liverpool, registrar-secretary; Robert Hummer of Girard chairman of the Board of Trustees; the Rev. Boyd Burd of Kensington, chairman of the administration committee; the Rev. Gene Toot of Hopedale, chairman of the Christian Education committee from the Steubenville Presbytery and George Reynolds of East Liverpool, caretaker at the camp.

MAPS WERE studied and plans were laid. Sears will furnish maps and diagramatical sketches, after which a master plan for future developments of the camp will be presented.

Future use of the camp was discussed at great length as to the type of programs for Junior High, Juniors, Senior High camps, family camps, conferences, retreats, and institutes. Other discussions included "outpost" camping and the location of the swimming pool.

The development committee spent Saturday morning, going over the grounds again with Sears.

Thirteen were present at the Saturday afternoon meeting, including three new members of the Board of Trustees — the Rev. Gene Phlegar of Bergholz, the Rev. W. Ranson Rice Jr. of Amsterdam and the Rev. Calvin Martin of Mineral Ridge.

—:—

OTHERS WHO attended were Hummer, Rev. Toot, the Rev. George Jenkins of Carrollton, General Presbyter of the Steubenville Presbytery; the Rev. John Little of Canfield, General Presbyter of the Mahoning Presbytery; the Rev. Roland Kamm, of Cambridge, Christian education field director; Mrs. Baxter, Miss Elizabeth Larick of Poland, Christian Education director; the Rev. Richard Fruit of Lake Milton, chairman of the program committee, Rev. Ralph Johnson of Salem and Rev. Burd.

Rev. Fruit was in charge of the session and opened the meeting with prayer.

Recommendations from the Synod regarding the camping season of 1961 were studied and discussed. Other discussions included directors for 1961.

The Rev. Chalmer Goshorn of East Palestine will assist in recruitment of counselors and directors instead of Rev. Johnson of Salem.

—:—

IT WAS ANNOUNCED that there are prospects of a "Synod Family Camp" to be held at the Beaver Creek Camp this summer.

It was decided that camping weeks would run from Sunday afternoon through Saturday noon this summer instead of Monday through Sunday, as in previous years.

The next meeting of the program committee, to further plans for the 1961 season, will be held Dec. 17 at 1:30 p.m. at the Salem church.

Dr. R. C. Costello, deputy county coroner, said the ruling was reached over the weekend after he completed his investigation and conferred with Dr. William Koloszi of Salem, Columbiana County Coroner.

Presbyterians Receive Report

Landscaping Expert Inspects Camp

A report on a meeting held Friday afternoon at the Beaver Creek United Presbyterian camp at Grimms Bridge with Brade Sears of Syracuse, N. Y., a landscape architect, featured the meeting of the planning committee of the camp Saturday afternoon at the Salem United Presbyterian Camp.

The architect went over the grounds with the development committee and the executive committee of the Board of Trustees.

Sears is an expert at planning and assisting in development of camps and has helped many Presbyterian and Methodist camps and government state parks. Topography maps were studied in the survey.

The Rev. Mark Allen of Toronto, chairman of the development committee, and Stanley Rose of East Liverpool, co-chairman, were in charge of the meeting. The Rev. Gene Toot of Hopedale led prayer.

ON FRIDAY NIGHT, the group, along with Sears, met in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church here to go over the maps and discuss in detail future plans for the camp.

Those who attended included Dr. Stanley Kreidler of Columbus, director of christian education; Rev. Allen, Rose, Marion Horger of East Liverpool, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Baxter, also of East Liverpool, registrar-secretary; Robert Hummer of Girard chairman of the Board of Trustees; the Rev. Boyd Burd of Kensington, chairman of the administration committee; the Rev. Gene Toot of Hopedale, chairman of the Christian Education committee from the Steubenville Presbytery and George Reynolds of East Liverpool, caretaker at the camp.

MAPS WERE studied and plans were laid. Sears will furnish maps and diagramatical sketches, after which a master plan for future developments of the camp will be presented.

Future use of the camp was discussed at great length as to the type of programs for Junior High, Juniors, Senior High camps, family camps, conferences, retreats, and institutes. Other discussions included "outpost" camping and the location of the swimming pool.

The development committee spent Saturday morning, going over the grounds again with Sears.

Thirteen were present at the Saturday afternoon meeting, including three new members of the Board of Trustees — the Rev. Gene Phlegar of Bergholz, the Rev. W. Ranson Rice Jr. of Amsterdam and the Rev. Calvin Martin of Mineral Ridge.

—:—

OTHERS WHO attended were Hummer, Rev. Toot, the Rev. George Jenkins of Carrollton, General Presbyter of the Steubenville Presbytery; the Rev. John Little of Canfield, General Presbyter of the Mahoning Presbytery; the Rev. Roland Kamm, of Cambridge, Christian education field director; Mrs. Baxter, Miss Elizabeth Larick of Poland, Christian Education director; the Rev. Richard Fruit of Lake Milton, chairman of the program committee, Rev. Ralph Johnson of Salem and Rev. Burd.

Rev. Fruit was in charge of the session and opened the meeting with prayer.

Recommendations from the Synod regarding the camping season of 1961 were studied and discussed. Other discussions included directors for 1961.

The Rev. Chalmer Goshorn of East Palestine will assist in recruitment of counselors and directors instead of Rev. Johnson of Salem.

—:—

IT WAS ANNOUNCED that there are prospects of a "Synod Family Camp" to be held at the Beaver Creek Camp this summer.

It was decided that camping weeks would run from Sunday afternoon through Saturday noon this summer instead of Monday through Sunday, as in previous years.

The next meeting of the program committee, to further plans for the 1961 season, will be held Dec. 17 at 1:30 p.m. at the Salem church.

A ruling of "accidental death" was issued today in the traffic death of Thayer A. McDaniel of Chester, who was killed Thursday afternoon on the Cannons Mills Hill on Route 30 when his car was sideswiped by another driven by Darrell Mayle, 27, of Elyria.

Dr. R. C. Costello, deputy county coroner, said the ruling was reached over the weekend after he completed his investigation and conferred with Dr. William Koloszi of Salem, Columbiana County Coroner.

Services were held this morning at the Dawson Funeral Home for Mr. McDaniel. Burial was in Riverview Cemetery. Meanwhile, Mayle was released Saturday afternoon from City Hospital, where he had been admitted with injuries suffered in the crash.

NEW CUMBERLAND — An area man was injured when the auto in which he was a passenger crashed on State Route 2 Sunday. The driver was jailed on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Hale of Chester St., he was detained in the Weirton General Hospital last night for observation. X-rays were to be taken today. His brother is Tom Hale, a member of New Cumberland's varsity cage team.

Snow Flurries Slated As Aftermath Of Rain

Today's pleasant weather was too good to last, the Ohio forecaster decided.

Although the high today will be a balmy 57-62, showers are scheduled this afternoon and tonight — a prelude to much colder weather. The overnight low will be 35-40.

The forecaster said Tuesday will be windy and much colder, with snow flurries.

A 3 or 4 family brick income property located on Rt. 30 just across the bridge with large potential. There is 120 frontage on the lot, and it can be remodeled to make several apartments. Someone with ambition can remodel this and raise the income to 3 or 4 hundred per month. The total price is $15,000.00

A widower who owns a double, 1 story, home on AMBROSE AVE. is unable to take care of the property, and says SELL. Both sides are one story, and the home and location are only 1 block from McKinley school and a grocery store, and still within walking distance to town. You can make the downpayment and let the income pay the balance. Asking price is $8,000.00, but will consider somewhat less for a fast sale.

WITH AN EYE TO THE FUTURE

A 3 or 4 family brick income property located on Rt. 30 just across the bridge with large potential. There is 120 frontage on the lot, and it can be remodeled to make several apartments. Someone with ambition can remodel this and raise the income to 3 or 4 hundred per month. The total price is $15,000.00

A widower who owns a double, 1 story, home on AMBROSE AVE. is unable to take care of the property, and says SELL. This is as nice an income property as you'll find in East Liverpool, but it does need some one to take care of it. Both sides are one story, and the home and location are only 1 block from McKinley school and a grocery store, and still within walking distance to town. You can make the downpayment and let the income pay the balance. Asking price is $8,000.00, but will consider somewhat less for a fast sale.

A 1 story, 7 room duplexed home on SPRING GROVE AVE. in Pleasant Heights. Seperate gas and electric meters, double garage, and full basement. Live in one half and let the income from the other side help with your payments. $15,500.00

Three Bibles Are Donated For Meditation Room's Use

Bibles of three faiths have been presented to the Meditation Room of East Liverpool City Hospital by local physicians, it was announced Friday afternoon at a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary in the Nurses Home.

Dr. Alex Fisher presented the Weekday Prayer Book for the Jewish faith. Dr. Charles Gerace gave a Catholic Bible and Dr. William Gilmore provided a Protestant Bible.

Mrs. William B. Cooper, president, opened the business meeting with a prayer, then called for committee reports.

Mrs. P. R. Blake, corresponding secretary, announced that three members had resigned, then presented the names of seven prospective members for voting. All were accepted.

Mrs. J. Walter Smith, reporting for the Snack Bar, gave notice of the holiday schedule which will be in effect. The Hospitality Center will be open until 6 p. m. Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve and will be closed Dec. 25 and 26 and Jan. 1 and 2. Additional wreaths for the hospital will be purchased, she said.

Personnel chairman, Mrs. Donald Gass, announced that a complete schedule for 1961 has been completed. She reminded the board that each new member coming into the Auxiliary is required to give 4 hours' volunteer service per month for the first year of membership, then 50 hours' yearly for the duration of membership.

The new system for making "Pinkie puppets" has been entirely successful, enabling that committee to turn out 851 puppets since Jan. 1, 1960, according to Mrs. Emil Liebschener, chairman.

Mrs. Smith, chairman of hospitalization, emphasized that January is the only time that new members may apply for group plan Blue Cross insurance.

Mrs. T. Burton Kerr reported that 92 memorial gift cards have been sent out this year to benefit her Remembrance Fund.

Two new groups have added support to the Library committee, Mrs. Fred Winland, chairman, announced. Circle 4 of St. Stephen's Episcopal church collects magazines for the hospital as a regular project, while the Travelers Club sets aside one meeting annually for members to bring newly-purchased magazines, she said.

A Christmas party for nurses in training is planned by the Nurses Recreation Committee, headed by Mrs. John Fraser and Miss Helen Ryan. A "welcome" for new students was held Oct. 2, they reported.

The Renovation Committee, a special project, has completed decoration of five semi-private and ward accomodation rooms and is awaiting arrival of new furniture, according to Mrs. Clair Chambers and Mrs. C. H. Bailey, co-chairmen.

Mrs. Gordon Starkey and Mrs. T. Gerald Ryan of the Gift Shop Committee reminded members that the shop is featuring Christmas items.

Additional reports were given by Mrs. William Horger, treasurer; Mrs. J. Bennett Porter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Malcolm Thompson, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Bayard Hunsicker, food chairman; Mrs. James Batey Jr., baby photo service; Mrs. Ben Feldman, sales tax stamps, and Mrs. Harold Kaufman, service records.

The 22 members in attendance at the meeting voted to adopt a new procedure for billing new members of the Auxiliary. If a new member comes into the Auxiliary prior to July 1 of any year, regular dues are required for that year, while no dues are necessary for those joining after July 1, it was decided.

Mary Falconer Heads School's Honor Society

The National Honor Society of Wellsville High School will be headed by Miss Mary Falconer for 1960-61.

Other officers elected at a meeting Thursday are: Keith Tipton, vice president; Rosemary Pasquale, secretary, and Bill Brown, treasurer. Co-sponsors are Mrs. Nova Runyon and William Menough.

The society was reactivated at a dinner in November at Piatt's Tea Room on 15th St. and 15 members were initiated. They include David Brookman, Brown, Marianne Dalrymple, Miss Falconer, Rodney Ferguson, Rick Gray, Charla Grindle, Sandra Hermand, Joyce Jordan, Bob Kiggans, Kathy Kozora, Miss Pasquale, Joyce Thompson, Tipton and Portia Wolski.

'Camelot' Offers Songs, Spectacle For Lengthy Run

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — "Camelot" has a lot for the customers.

Lilting songs, shimmering spectacle, wit and charm. Julie Andrews, Richard Burton, Roddy McDowall.

These are fanfare assets of the much-ballyhooed musical that unfurled its banners Saturday night on the stage of the Majestic Theater.

But about its story of good King Arthur and the days when knighthood was in flower there's a creak of rusty armor.

A pre-opening sale of $3 million set a Broadway record, and the plus ingredients it displays seem sufficient to keep "Camelot" a happy place for a long, long time.

The charade is based on T. H. White's satiric trilogy, "The Once and Future King." Some liberties have been taken with that book and the familiar roundtable legends of Malory and Tennyson by the producing-creating team of composer Frederick Loewe, author-lyricist Alan Jay Lerner and stager Moss Hart.

Running three hours, the show exhibits boggy spots, static moments and a muted windup. Most spectators, however, will be happy to overlook these defects in the general visual and melodic splendor of the enterprise.

Lancelot, who loves but never reaches ultimate woo, is Robert Goulet, dark and stern. Roddy McDowall revels as a slinking, tricky Mordred. Robert Coote is a cartoon knight.

Business Figure Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — William E. Stough, prominent in business here, died Saturday at Mt. Carmel Hospital after becoming ill three weeks ago. He was 82. Stough, whose home was in Galion, was executive chairman of the Nationwide Development Co. and a member of the boards of Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co. and of United Redevelopment Corp. of Columbus. He was a prominent potato grower in Springfield Twp. west of Mansfield.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average near normal or a little below until warmer on Saturday. Normal high 38 north to 42 south, normal low 24-26. Precipitation will average about one-half inch in rain south Tuesday, changing to snow west Wednesday; one - half to three-quarters inch in snow flurries Tuesday and Wednesday night. Light snow about Friday north.

Gen. George C. Marshall was the U. S. Chief of Staff during World War II.

In the Bible, Stephen is considered the first martyr of the Christian faith.
